COLONY BOWLERS AGAIN BOW TO SHANGHAI RIVALS

OMAR RETURNS TO FORM AND COATES BRILLIANT

Snatching victory on the last two heads, Shanghai recorded their third and final triumph over Hong Kong in their Interport Bowls series at Wayside Park yesterday, winning by a margin of 22 shots to 21 after the Colony four had led by 21-14 on the 18th head.

Winning the first two Interport contests by margins of 22 shots to 15 and 18 shots to 17, Shanghai had already won the Prentice Cup, and taken the lead with 9 victories against Hong Kong's 8 in the complete series 1915.

The features of yesterday's game were the return to form of U. M. Omar, the Colony skip, and the brilliance of A. E. Coates at No. 1. H. Beer (No. 3) and R. Basa (No. 2) did not play up to standard.

HANKOW'S THIRD WIN
Hankow defeated Shanghai by a margin of 23 shots to 16 to record their third successive victory. Hankow, who meet the Colony four to-day, won the first game by 21 shots to 16 and the second by 19 shots to 18.

Hankow have thus recorded their fifth triumph as against Shanghai's 3 since the Interport contest between these two ports was inaugurated in 1924.

The weather was bright and sunny and a large attendance saw the Hong Kong team—A. E. Coates, R. Basa, H. Beer and U. M. Omar (skip)—take the lead on the first head with a single shot. Shanghai, however, replied with 3, obtained through a smash by Jensen, the Shanghai skip.

On the fifth head Shanghai led by 5 shots to 3, but Hong Kong rallied and a 3 shot saw them in the lead on the next head.

DANGER OF FRESH
VIOLENCE

WASHINGTON, YESTERDAY.
FEELING IS TENSE AS THE UNITED STATES TEXTILE STRIKERS ARE GAINING GROUND. SEVERAL THOUSAND MORE WORKERS HAVE WALKED OUT. THERE HAS BEEN A FEW MINOR DISTURBANCES, BUT THE SITUATION IS GENERALLY QUIET.

Mr. Ibra C. Blackwood, Governor of South Carolina, as a preliminary step towards the proclamation of martial law, has ordered all persons engaged in unlawful obstruction to go home before midday.

Mr. Joseph B. Ely, Governor of Massachusetts, has announced that the requests for police or military assistance for protection in the strike areas have been refused upon representation by the strike leaders that violence will not be employed.

The Secretary of Labour Miss Frances Perkins has denounced the shootings, and blames the practice of the local authorities of employing non-striking workers for police. "Apparently, the shooting was done by people who not having previous police experience, shot because they were frightened," she states.—Reuter.

FRANCO-ITALIAN AGREEMENT SEEN AS PREMATURE

BRITISH OPINION

London, Yesterday.

The reports of a definite Franco-Italian agreement have surprised Whitehall and are regarded as premature. The view of British diplomatic circles is that the French and Italian Governments do not intend a military alliance.

A Paris message states that it is felt that naval parity in the Mediterranean will be the last question to be discussed. France is far more concerned at present in regard to Italy's attitude towards Yugoslavia.—Reuter.

HARROWING ACCOUNTS OF DISASTER

ROUGH SEA HAMPERED RESCUE WORK

STRUCK BY A BOLT OF LIGHTNING WHILE CRUISING UP THE COAST OF NEW JERSEY, BOUND FOR NEW YORK, EARLY YESTERDAY MORNING, THE TWIN-SCREW LUXURY LINER, MORRO CASTLE, NOW LIES A SMOULDERING HULL ONLY A FEW MILES OFF THE COAST.

More than 370 of her 558 passengers and crew are still unaccounted for, and officials fear that between 200 and 250 lives have been lost.

Harrowing accounts of the disaster were related as boat-loads of survivors, many attired only in pyjamas, were landed at various points along the coast. One survivor related grim details of how he saw trapped passengers staring wildly out of portholes, not daring to jump into the raging sea and unable to reach the deck owing to the fierce inferno in the passages.

THE AMERICAN LINER, ANDREA F. LUCKENBACH, AND THE BRITISH LINER, MONARCH OF BERMUDA, RUSHED TO AID THE STRICKEN VESSEL IN RESPONSE TO AN S.O.S. AND SUCCEEDED IN TAKING OFF A NUMBER OF SURVIVORS. OTHERS ARE STILL TRAPPED ON THE BURNING HULL.

New York, Yesterday.

The Monarch of Bermuda rescued 65 passengers, and the Andrea Luckenbach 22. Asbury Park officials estimate the death toll to be between 200 and 250.

Six of the rescued crew say that the fire started in the library and not as the result of a lightning flash.

The deck watch unsuccessfully tried to subdue the fire and then called out the crew, but an officer cut their story short with a curt order to "stop talking".

The crew confirmed the previous opinions that few of the passengers below had time to escape.

DOCTOR'S GRAPHIC STORY
Dr. Charles Cochran, who reached the shore at Spring Lake, New Jersey, in a lifeboat, related a graphic story of the disaster.

"I was asleep in my cabin at 3 o'clock in the morning when I was awakened by a pungent smell," he said. "Then came a violent banging on the door. I quickly rose and found the passage way outside my cabin a mass of flames, cutting off my escape."

"I then rushed to the porthole which, fortunately, was on the deck level, and crawled through it on to the deck and ran to the nearest lifeboat which was already crowded, and tumbled in. There did not appear to be a real panic on deck. The lifeboat was launched, after a seemingly interminable delay of 15 minutes, into the boiling sea."

"Dr. Cochran believed that any passenger in any cabin beyond the library had no chance to escape."

"WOULD NOT JUMP"
Other passengers and sailors landing at Spring Lake say that the flames threatened to burn through the ropes holding the lifeboats.

"As we pulled away we could see passengers with their heads projecting from portholes. We saw more on deck with their retreat entirely cut off, and yelled to them to jump, saying that we would rescue them, but they would not jump," one survivor declared.

All Amidships Ablaze When Alarm Given

WINDOW'S SMASHED TO AROUSE PASSENGERS

Asbury Park, New Jersey,

Yesterday.

Fire has broken out on the American liner, Morro Castle, bound for New York from Savannah with 318 passengers and 240 crew. According to a wireless S.O.S., the vessel is blazing from stem to stern.

All coastguard vessels on the New Jersey coast are speeding to the rescue, while the British liner, Monarch of Bermuda, is nearing the scene, 20 miles south of the Scotland Lightship.

It is now feared that a heavy loss of life has resulted according to a New York message. According to the first survivors to be landed, many passengers were killed when lightning struck the vessel when eight miles off the New Jersey coast, starting a fire which spread rapidly.

A member of the crew said that all amidships was ablaze when the fire alarm sounded. It was impossible to enter the corridors to warn the passengers, but sailors rushed round the decks and smashed cabin windows in order to awaken the sleepers.

Two liners are standing by and taking off survivors, 100 of whom have been brought ashore.

Cohen, of Hartford, swam ashore from the liner.

They struggled through the boiling seas for six hours with one lifebelt between them.

They collapsed from shock and fatigue as they crawled out of the water on to the beach at Seagriff, New Jersey, and were rushed to hospital in a critical condition.

One of the first of those rescued to jump ashore from a lifeboat on to the shore at Spring Lake was the Morro Castle's mascot, a mongrel puppy.—Reuter.

GARDEN PARTY DRESS

Airy Chiffons Ideal For Lawn Wear

THE kind of frock known as a garden-party dress is not so specialised nowadays as it once was. Airy chiffons that can be worn at night with an accompanying coat or cape are also ideal for wear on green lawns in the afternoon.

At Buckingham Palace this type of dress is by no means de rigueur. A good many people prefer something more substantial and figured crepe de Chine comes into its own.

A smart hat is essential to make the attire specially important. Broad-brimmed hats always look well in large open spaces, and the gardens of the Palace are the very place for them. Dainty shoes, too, and are almost essential, as feet always come well into view there. The Queen's shoes are invariably of some pale shade which harmonises with the delicate pastel tints which she so much favours in her attire.

Beauty In Placid Expressions

A sunshade is almost a necessity if the day is fine, for there is practically no shade in the grounds, and the sun can beat down with terrific force. It is as well to remember that the only refuge from its rays is to be found in the tea tents, and they are always crowded.

PREFERABLE TO THE VARIETY

THE greatest beauties of all time have been particularly noted for their calm, relaxed and almost placid expressions. And modern women will do well to realize that rested and restful-looking beauty is preferable to the variety that is tired, worn and slightly haggard.

Unless a girl gets the proper amount of sleep, she can't expect to be fresh and beautiful the following day. Remember that lack of sleep causes lines around the mouth and eyes.

In addition to enough sleep each night, everyone, if it is at all possible, should take a short rest period sometime during the day. A twenty minute nap after lunch makes the afternoon seem pleasanter and does wonders for your skin, eyes and general beauty. And don't forget about that short nap just before you go out in the evening.

When you've finished your bath and removed most of the nourishing cream from face and throat, lie flat on your back and cover your eyes with pads that have been dipped in a soothing eye lotion. You don't need to sleep but keep eyes closed and really relax. The eye lotion will make your eyes clear and sparkling—the short rest will make the corners of your mouth turn up instead of down.

CLOTHES WITH HOLIDAY AIR

Linen Suit With Flared Skirt For Golfer

HOLIDAY-MAKERS who hope to include many hours on the golf course in their programme of amusements are taking clothes that combine a smart holiday air, making them suitable for other occasions, with ample freedom for play. The linen suit with a flared skirt is ideal for golfer or spectator. In beige, it is trimmed with dark brown buttons and a white linen collar, spotted in the same dark shade to match the hatband.

Brown, grey and white form the broad stripes of the sweater of linen thread, worn with a white linen skirt, with novel yoke effect and slantwise pockets. The golfer has chosen a heavy washing silk frock in pale turquoise blue, with inverted pleats that ensure freedom of movement.

FLOWER PERFUME SPRAY

FOR USE IN HOME AND GARDEN

A VERY light syringe, nickel plated on solid brass, is useful in the garden just now. There is nothing to get out of order, and it will spray any type of insecticide. It holds one-third of a pint of liquid, but as the mist is so fine this goes a long way.

The sprayer can be used in the house, as well as the garden. A spray of flower perfume on a hot summer's day will quickly make a room refreshing.

TAFETTA SCARVES FOR SUMMER

MANY of the new attractive summer scarves are made of taffeta and have matching bags. These may be washed at home with every success, but unfortunately they frequently become limp after they have been in use for a time. The best way to restore their original crispness is to sponge the taffeta with a solution of borax and water. While the taffeta is still damp iron it with a moderately hot iron on the wrong side of the material. After this treatment the taffeta will come up as stiffly as when new.

COLONY BOWLERS AGAIN BOW TO SHANGHAI RIVALS

They continued strongly and on the tenth head were leading by 11 shots to 7, increasing their advantage on the 15th head to 17 shots to 11.

NEARLY A BURNED HEAD
On the 18th head Jensen, the Shanghai skip, nearly caused a burnt head when Hong Kong were lying 2, but the visitors still laid two more through Omar, bringing the score to 21 shots to 14.

Hisner overtook the visitors on the penultimate head, on which Shanghai scored a 5.

When the skips went own the home team were lying 3, and Jensen added two more. Omar was wide with his first wood and short with the next, so that Shanghai had reduced the margin to 21 shots to 18.

On the final head Shanghai obtained the required 3 shots for victory. Omar was stopped from saving defeat by a good block by Jensen.

COLONY AQUATIC STARS LEAVE STRONGEST TEAM TO VISIT NORTH

TRIBUTE TO MR. COOKE

REPRESENTING THE COLONY'S SWIMMING CHAMPIONS OVER ALL DISTANCES, THE 14 MEMBERS OF THE INTERPORT TEAM LEFT YESTERDAY AT NOON ON BOARD THE PRESIDENT COOLIDGE FOR SHANGHAI WHERE THEY WILL DEFEND THE TAGGART CUP IN THE TRIANGULAR CONTEST AGAINST SHANGHAI AND TIENSIN ON SEPTEMBER 13, 14, and 15.

Shattering three long-standing swimming records of the Colony during the recent trials, the team is undoubtedly the finest group of aquatic stars who have yet left these shores on a similar mission. In comparison with the times put up by their northern competitors, the Colony's chances of retaining the coveted Trophy are exceedingly bright.

Despite the sensational brilliance and newly established records of both the Tientsin and Shanghai swimmers, the Colony stars are favoured to outpace their opponents in the majority of the events. Briefly, with the exception of the 50 Yards and 100 Yards free-style events, the former which is always a matter of touch and go for victory, our swimmers are capable of filling both first and second places in the long distance and variety style events. With such a well-balanced team of experts both the free style and medley team races should be won without a serious challenge.

CANADIAN CHINESE CLUB'S SWIMMING OUTING

Members of the Canadian Chinese Club will hold a swimming outing to Big Wave Bay next Sunday afternoon. A special launch, which will leave Queen's Pier at 2 o'clock, will be chartered for the occasion. Those who are interested are requested to communicate with Mr. Y. T. Lee, Chinese Department, Canadian Pacific Steamship and Company.

The last minute inclusion of W. Fullagher, of the South Wales Borderers and V.R.C., has greatly strengthened the water-polo team in addition to relieving the strain on the other swimmers so that they may concentrate on the racing events. With C. E. Roza-Pereira, W. T. Campbell and Chan Sek-pui, the team can face the opposition with confidence.

Frank Hadley Missing

Perhaps the greatest loss to the contest will be the absence of Frank Hadley of the Shanghai team. His remarkable display at the V.R.C. last October when he virtually won the Interport Club contest on his own merits, is still fresh in the minds of local swimming enthusiasts.

Two new stars, however, have jumped into his shoes and in recent championship events in Shanghai have demonstrated that they are worthy successors. Noel Hammond, hitherto practically unknown, has come to the fore by smashing Hadley's 100 Yards mark and is now the champion sprint swimmer, while Archie Logan, seen in Hong Kong last year as only a second string, has developed amazing speed and stamina, setting up times for the longer distances which closely equal Shanghai's best.

Back Stroke Expert

Tientsin offers Dr. Ohlwein as one of their swimming aces. This swimmer created a record for the 100 Yards back-stroke in 1932 when he covered the distance in 67 seconds, far exceeding anything known in either Shanghai or Hong Kong. Whether Ohlwein has retained that winning form, however, remains to be discovered for nothing further has been heard of him in Tientsin swimming circles of late.

Only Hong Kong can offer a challenge to this mark with three

THE CARP MAY PROVE TO BE SOUNDEST BET

The punter visiting Macao to-day will have a busy time picking winners in what is likely to be one of the most open meetings of the 1934 Racing Season. The entries for this, the first meeting of the second half of the season, are somewhat small, and many racing men are of the opinion that the season is still a little too early for racing—the weather prophets forecast that the hot spell will continue.

It is understood, however, that fully 90 per cent. of the ponies entered will run, and, this being the case, the fields will be almost as large as normal, in spite of the small entry.

The Mounted Troop Handicap, which opens the day's sport, is likely to be a well-run race. Pat, who ran second in a similar race at the last meeting, is a good sturdy pony and should be able to carry his 175 lbs. to victory, although Mouche and Jack O'Lantern are expected to be well in the fore.

Thrills In R.A.C. Tourist Trophy

Classic Over Ards Circuit

Belfast, September 1.

Driving on M. G. Magnette, Dodgson to-day won the Royal Automobile Club's Tourist Trophy race by the narrow margin of 11 sec. on handicap, after a thrilling finish.

The winners covered 35 laps of the famous Ards circuit, representing 478 miles, at an average speed of 74.65 miles an hour.

Hall finished second. Driving a Bentley, he averaged 78.40 miles per hour, while Forthorthingham, driving an Aston-Martin, was third with the average speed of 74.53 miles per hour.

CIVIL SERVANTS WHIPPED BY BOWLING GREEN

RECREIO'S FINE FEAT

ONE 1934 local lawn bowls league championship has been decided and the Indian Recreation Club, wooden-spoonists last year, have provided the winning combination. Requiring only one win to clinch the coveted junior division title and promotion to the senior league next season, the Indians yesterday beat the Kowloon Cricket Club by 62 shots to 56 at Sookunpoo to record their 14th win in 16 games.

Only a skeleton league programme was carried out owing to the Interport's claims on various Clubs, and the results were by no means surprising, though Craigengower "B," who lost heavily to the Bowling Green last week, went down by 27 shots to the Recreio, while the Bowling Green juniors trounced the Civil Service by 45 shots!

Only one "7" shot was recorded in yesterday's lawn bowls encounters, this being scored by J. Russell's Football Club rink (H. Humphrey, P. Morgan, and E. S. Carter) in a friendly match against C. Phelps' Craigengower rink. Six shots were recorded by W. E. Hale's Bowling Green rink and J. C. Brown's Kowloon Dock rink.

Bowker's Return

GARTHWAITE PLAYS HIMSELF INTO THE ELEVEN

Elwin Sets Selectors Unenviable Task

PEREIRA'S "FIREWORKS"

THE BATTING OF C. C. GARTHWAITE AND THE BRILLIANT COMEBACK OF A. C. I. BOWKER PROVIDED THE MAIN FEATURES OF THE SECOND INTERPORT CRICKET TRIAL IN WHICH MR. PEARCE'S XI BEAT MR. HAYWARD'S XI BY 8 RUNS IN AN EXCITING FINISH ON THE CLUB GROUND YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Garthwaite literally played himself in the eleven on his debut appearance—he was suffering from a poisoned foot last Monday when the first trial was played. In spite of the fact that he scored only 19 in an hour, he battled with confidence throughout, hitting the ball squarely in the middle of the bat on each occasion.

Minu caused him anxiety at the start, but he made two glorious strokes through extra cover to the boundary off him once he had settled down. He also took a difficult return catch off Mackay and finished up with 2 for 10 after opening the bowling.

Bowker, bowling for the first time for at least two seasons, conceded one run in his first five overs, having both McInnes and Stewart, who added 20 in a four, fifth wicket stand, frequently beaten by his pace off the pitch.

His fielding was superb throughout the innings, his throw in which resulted in Fincher's dismissal being one of the best fielding feats seen on the ground for several years.

FRED PERRY'S TRIUMPH

Bowker's
Return

If only he can obtain the necessary leave he And Pereira would provide an admirable "shock" attack combination in Shanghai next month.

Steady Bowling

Runs were scarce in the intense heat, only 218 being scored for 18 wickets against unusually steady bowling.

Mr. Pearce's XI lost three wickets for 28 runs in the first 45 minutes' play, but Garthwaite and Owen Hughes retrieved the poor start by adding 44 in 37 minutes before the former was called back to the pavilion. Owen Hughes went on to score 44 out of 62 in 43 minutes, including six boundaries, before he also was recalled. He again scored the majority of his runs with his well-known hook shot, but yesterday he attempted to score more frequently on the off side, which was most encouraging.

I.R.C. Bowlers Unlucky

Pereira and Minu bowled well, but did not have any luck. When the fast bowler was relieved he had sent down 7 overs, 5 maidens, for 8 runs and one wicket while Minu had the following figures for his first spell.

O. M. R. W.

8 5 10 1

McInnes pitched the ball up well yesterday and was as a result more impressive, securing the wickets of Balnes and Bowker for 9 runs in 5 overs. He also batted doggedly for his 7 runs, scored out of 32 in 52 minutes, before stepping too far out to Elvin. Taking two useful catches at first slip he gave a good all-round display.

Elvin Again Impresses

Elvin was undoubtedly most impressive with the ball, securing 4 for 19 in 9 overs after being put on as second change bowler at the Supreme Court end. Against the earlier batsmen he was most effective and it was only the lion-hearted effort by Pereira to save his side that spoiled his average. He should have had five wickets, as he did in the first trial, Ricketta dropping Burnett in the slips.

The Army slow left-hander is setting the selectors a pretty problem—is it to be Elvin or Minu? On form, Elvin would definitely be chosen, but on experience Minu has the decided advantage—he won the game for Eric Mitchell's side in Shanghai in 1932.

Pereira gave a perfect "fireworks" display, hitting up 34 out of 57 in 33 minutes, scoring a six into Chater Road off Alec Pearce, a five, on an overthrow, and three boundaries.

A. H. Madar had not recovered sufficiently from his attack of influenza to take his place in the side, but Ernie Fincher, who has been nursing a damaged heel, made a welcome reappearance.

The next trial will be held next Saturday, and the selected team will leave for Shanghai by the Empress of Asia on October 6, returning by the Comorin on October 19.

PROSPECTS FOR
TO-DAY'S RACE MEET
ON MACAO TRACK

Racing Triumph, which ran fourth in the 'uling Stakes at the Valley last June, should be able to carry off the second race, even in the face of Fair View, Gold Currency, and Limelight.

Boxing Eve Upset

Boxing Eve is an unlikely star in the third race, being reported unfit, but Banquet Hall and Festival Eve can be expected to provide a thrilling finish.

General opinion seems to be that The Carp is a certain winner of the next race, but Bold Commander is a strong challenger, especially in view of 6 lbs. less load.

Another pony reported unfit is Potadam, who is not expected to start in the fifth race, and Sarabande is quite likely to flash first 9 p.m.

TEST PLAYERS SHINE IN BOTH ENCOUNTERS

London, Yesterday.
The Gentlemen secured their second victory over the Players this year, winning by three wickets at Folkestone, while the match at Scarborough was left drawn.

H. D. Read, the Essex veteran, was largely responsible for the Gentlemen's victory in the southern match, taking 5 for 73, to assist in keeping their first innings score down to 280. Geary and Freeman were outstanding for the Players, Geary making the only century of the match, 109 in the second innings, and Tich Freeman dismissing five Gentlemen for 69.

In the north, the England Test players, R. E. S. Wyatt, Keeton, and Verity were outstanding. Keeton scored 94 in the Players' first knock of 363 for 8 declared, and Verity took 6 for 57, while Wyatt scored 99 in the fourth innings.

Scores, as cabled by Reuter, were:

At Scarborough, the Players drew with the Gentlemen

Players: 363 for 8 dec. (Keeton 94) and 65 for 5 dec.

NO "LUCK" ABOUT SUCCESS

Famous Novelist's Views On Question

Quickness Of Others Often Depreciated

(By J. D. BERESFORD)

WHEN I say that I don't believe in luck, I do not mean to imply that there is no such thing or that some people do not get a greater share of it than others, or seem to. Most of us know someone or other who appears to get more than he should of all the good things of life without doing anything (in our opinion) to deserve it. But we must not forget those significant words "in our opinion," because it is so very consoling to our vanity to attribute another's success to luck rather than to ability.

Two young men are looking for a job. One has a cheerful, confident way with him, always hopes and looks for the best, has an active mind, and is quick in the uptake. The other, though he has plenty of ability, does not show it by his manner, is given to weighing a question before he answers, and is far too modest about his own capacity.

Now in that critical search for a job One will be successful and Two most probably will not. And everyone who has a grouse against business methods and society in general will attribute One's success to luck. He is, indeed, the typical lucky person, the fellow who is always bringing it off when others make a mess of it.

But it is not luck in the ordinary sense, not chance, not the effect of some rare coincidence engineered by the gods especially for One's benefit. It is the effect of his personality. He is the kind of man who has faith in himself, and in some way he is able to pass that faith on to others. The possible employer will probably find a use for him, because that quick, confident manner is a real asset. It is—for instance—the mark of a good salesman.

Genius For Hard Work

And you will never perceive me started with a shilling and ended that those business heroes who as multi-millionaires "got there" as a result of the smiling indulgence of their patron saint. They won success because they were rather more clever and more imaginative than the next man. Also, they had the capacity for looking ahead and a genius for hard work. So much of what the average man regards as pure luck should be rightly ascribed to ability. A gambler on the Stock Exchange and brings it off. B comes a purser, and will give you a dozen reasons why he hung on to his stock too long or sold it too soon. Further, he will tell you that A had the most infernal good luck. But the truth is that A saw a little farther ahead than B, and used his knowledge to the best advantage.

These are common examples of the misuse of the word "luck" in everyday life. But there are other aspects of it in which we cannot so easily attribute the stroke of good fortune to a man's abilities or personality. There are people who seem destined to draw the right ticket for the Irish Sweep— and others who do not get so much as a consolation prize. My own mother had a queer gift for winning raffles at church bazaars.

But before I grant these instances, I should like to have a few more statistics. Some people have to win those Sweep prizes, and did the lucky people always have their good fortune? I do not think my mother could be counted as a consistently lucky person in any other connection than this matter of bazaar lotteries; and even that was probably of the same order as a run on one colour. If she had gone on and made a hobby of it she would probably have struck the common average.

We are far too ready, in fact, to account for success by attributing it to luck, without taking the trouble to be a little deeper and look for any other contributing factors. And the sloppier we are in our own methods, the slower to look out for the off-chance and to take it when we find it, the more apt we shall be to depreciate the quickness of others and put their success down to the whimsical favour of the gods.

Coincidences Rare

I know this because I used to do it myself. There was a time in my life, nearly thirty years ago, when I believed myself to have been singularly cursed by Fate, when I was ready to avow that nothing ever went right for me. And so, of course, when I saw the success of various contemporaries who, in my opinion, had no more ability than I had myself, I said the usual thing.

And I suppose any casual acquaintance might have said of me that my luck changed about that time. It didn't—but I did. I began (for reasons that I need not go into here) to have new faith in myself, and to put new energy into my work; and presently the results began to show. I will admit that the beginning of this new attitude of mine was due to what might appear as a coincidence, but, as I began by saying, I am not denying that there is such a factor as luck.

What I do say is that it plays a far less important role in our lives than most people appear to think. There is, admittedly, the effect of coincidence, and now and again we come across an individual in whose favour these fortunate, or unfortunate, coincidences seem to play an unusually important part. But such individuals are comparatively rare, just as are long runs on the black or the red, and, like all exceptions to the common rule, they strike the attention.

Finally, I am sure that this belief in the power of luck to alter our lives is responsible for much trouble and unhappiness.

We make it an excuse for our weaknesses and never attempt to cure them, because it is so much easier to wait for the luck to turn. And in those cases, it hardly ever does turn.

"Men at some times are masters of their fates," and the men who take their opportunities are those who do not depend upon luck.

1 Garden Street, Middle Brighton, S.S.

Dear Sirs,

Last week I had 18 teeth out, and not being well my nerves were in a terrible way. In fact, I had to be taken home from the dentist. I went on for a couple of days in terrible pain with my head and eyes, due to my nerves, so I had to go to a doctor. On my way home I bought a packet of 'ASPRO'. I took three and laid down, and to my surprise I woke up feeling lovely. Now, if I feel a slight headache at all I try to 'ASPRO'. I think 'ASPRO' should be in every home. I could mention a few more facts where 'ASPRO' has done good in my home. Once tried, always used.

Other People's Money

AS far as the steadiness of our dollar is concerned it may seem to be rather an unsympathetic remark to those who have been troubled by the recent gradual rise, but it is still true that as compared with the rest of the world we have very little to grumble about. Our money is fulfilling its natural function of assisting business; and in spite of all the new theories that are floating about the old principles are quite adequate to do that. Imports and Exports over any period are apt to rise and fall together, leaving the ratio unchanged; and we are not burdened with large commitments to be paid in foreign currencies which rise and fall through reasons that are not under our control. So far as purchases within the Colony are concerned the price level changes even more slowly than the exchange; and there has been no need for the violent breaks that have reduced business in many countries to a mere gamble. It is all the more incumbent on us to watch, as far as our information goes, — which is by no means as far as it might, if censorship and propaganda did not complicate matters, — what is happening elsewhere, that we may at least take warning from other people's misfortunes.

The strictest censorship at the moment is probably the German; and so much objection is taken to any attempt to obtain correct information that we are reduced to making inferences from the few items that no censorship can prevent from becoming public property. Even a year ago Germany had large balances in London, Paris, and New York, the result of loans which had been made to assist the revival of industry. One cannot conceal anything from one's banker when balances are being drawn on, and it was soon generally known that while negotiations were being opened for default on interest on the loans, the cash was being used for the purchase of the depreciated scrip. Much more than any default this ruse created a doubt as to the goodwill of the Government, and there was an immediate pressure for cash payments, and Exchange Control Bureaux were established in several centres. In England the necessary legislation was passed, but owing to the arrangement made with Dr. Schacht, the Manager of the Deutsches Bank, the new law was not enforced. To-day's news is that Dr. Schacht has had to notify Dr. Goebbels, the Minister of Propaganda, that he has no more foreign exchange available for the expenses of his Department, which amounted to about ten million pounds sterling per annum. The inference is that Germany is now on a cash basis so far as foreign trade is concerned; and this is confirmed by the Lancashire yarn exporters refusing to take any more orders until the outstanding bills that total up to a million and a quarter pounds have been at least reduced. The cost of the propaganda would have been at least reduced. The cost of the propaganda would have been at least reduced. The cost of the propaganda would have been at least reduced.

The American Dollar is still and must remain another element of uncertainty; because the President has the legal power by a stroke of the pen to devalue it by another ten per cent. From the market point of view this neutralises the enormous advantage of the big gold reserve. It detaches the dollar from the world price of gold, which has gone steadily up until it looks like reaching something like double its prewar price. The price itself does not matter so much; what one would like to have is an assurance that even at a doubled value it will stay put. Whether the dollar will be lowered by another devaluation is keenly disputed. This year's expenditure is over the year's revenue by three thousand nine hundred million dollars; another three thousand million dollars expenditure has been sanctioned but not yet spent. It does not look as if the devaluation could be resisted. The results of this expenditure have fallen far short of expectations; but there are still optimists who prophesy an early boom. Failing that it does not seem that the purchases of silver can be very long maintained.

The gold boom has, of course, brought wealth to the mines of the Rand. The South African Government has restored all cuts, paid off to the Banks the accumulated deficit of about three millions of the previous four years; and to the Imperial Government the balance of eight millions due on advances during the war debts. This was not quite on the same footing as ordinary war debts, for there was the solid asset of the Railway into the mandated territory of the South Protectorate and other public works. The whole surplus is due to the abandonment of the hard and fast gold standard and the attachment to sterling, which still remains the best medium for industry and trade because it is based on transactions rather than on hoards of metal.

BIRTH

MOORE.—On September 8, 1934, at Victoria Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. E. Moore, a son.

A HONG KONG PORTFOLIO

WE welcome the appearance of an admirable portfolio of Hong Kong studies by Mr. A. S. Konya, whose name is already familiar to our readers at the foot of his weekly sketches of local personalities. A great deal of nonsense is talked about the different national arts being mutually exclusive and antipathetic. Only the other day the remark was made that European artists should come to the East only to learn and that they had nothing to teach to China and Japan. The rejection of this view does not in any way imply any detractor from the achievements of Oriental artists. The recognition of their merits which began some thirty years ago taught our own artists a great deal; more particularly in the economy of detail. But art is essentially international; "the pencil speaks the tongue of every land." The eye can detect the feeling for line and colour under whatever varieties of technique. Moreover every art tends to become static when it confines itself to imitation even of masterpieces. The shock of a new technique which obtains good results by new means sets the artist off on fruitful experiments.

The trouble with Chinese art just now is that it has reached one of those static periods; and however much one may admire an occasional felicity of execution all the recent exhibitions have shown an almost complete inability to achieve a new subject of a new method of treating the familiar. Western art owes some return for what it has received; and the return can be made by such work as this portfolio. The lines are clear and expressive, and the colouring reserved. In fact here one recognises Western art depicting sampans and coolies and buildings not merely as they are in real life but with the essential feeling that one would find in their own artists. Only a hundred and twenty-five copies have been made, and the ten line cuts can be had from Kelly and Walsh for ten dollars. We hope Mr. Konya will be encouraged to give us some more of his interpretations of the scenes we have around us every day.

Miss Phyllis Juby (Mrs. Konya) provides a literary impression admirably suited to introduce each of the illustrations.

MR. HAROLD SCOTT'S RECITAL

THERE could only be one ideal method of hearing music during the present heat wave. One ought to be floating over the harbour fanned by a gentle zephyr, and listening to our favourite pieces wafted over to us across a somnolent stretch of water. When it is a question of sitting indoors it requires a genuine enthusiasm to overcome the tendency to wonder whether the world is really so perfect as the artist would persuade us to think it. Next best will be the conditions of Mr. Harold Scott's recital this evening on the roof garden of the Peninsula at half past nine, when the sun will have had some time to lose his full effect. Mr. Scott gave us some delightful pieces of Paderewski at the

EXTENSIVE GERMAN AIR LINES

LONDON TO AUSTRALIA ALMOST COMPLETE

WORLD'S MOST RISKY AIRWAY (By Our Aviation Correspondent.)

I SPENT a most interesting half-hour the other day "awotting" an airways map, issued by the Deutsche Luft Hansa, dated "Summer 1934." Although stressing principally the airways of the German Company it showed in detail all the existing through airways in Europe, Asia and South America, with enticing little arrows pointing where it was hoped that extensions would shortly be made.

After a few moments of calm thought this map is rather stunning—it takes one's breath away. A significant feature is the absence of Hong Kong, while Canton is marked in!

The main lines of this German Company extend well over Europe, while Germany is one network of lines. Outside Europe the line extends those of Imperial Airways and from Port Etienne, branches across to the eastern coast of South America, running from Brazil right down to Monte Video and Buenos Aires.

BRITISH CONNECTIONS

It is interesting to note that the longest "connecting lines"—meaning of course those that connect with the German lines—are those of Imperial Airways, and, very shortly they will be longer, when the extra link between Singapore and Darwin, Brisbane and Sydney is started.

I have learned, on good authority, that it is now more than likely that Qantas Empire Airways, Ltd., the Company floated to run the connection between Darwin and Brisbane, will receive permission to extend their line from Brisbane to Sydney.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Extracts from Hong Kong Sunday Herald of September 8, 1929.

What might have been a serious fire occurred at the Kowloon Tong sub-station of the China Light and Power Company (1918) Ltd., when some tons of petrol became ignited. Two engines from the Hong Kong Fire Station soon had the blaze under control.

Sergeant J. A. Dyerson, of the Hong Kong Police Force, committed suicide at Central Police Station, shooting himself through the head with his service revolver.

Messrs. E. Field, R. D. Paton, R. Cunningham, A. Cameron, A. Mottram and G. Wynne, received medals of the Royal Life Saving Society of Great Britain, in a test for members of the Hong Kong Police Force.

(THE "HERALD" CALENDAR)

September 8, 1867—Great typhoon in Hong Kong.

September 8, 1822—Peak Hospital leased to Government.

September 8, 1907—H.I.H. Prince Tsai Tsu visited Hong Kong.

September 9, 1859—Sir H. Robinson became Governor of Hong Kong.

September 10, 1883—Riot by Chinese mob in Canton.

September 12, 1876—Chefoo Convention signed by Sir T. Wade and Li Hung-chang.

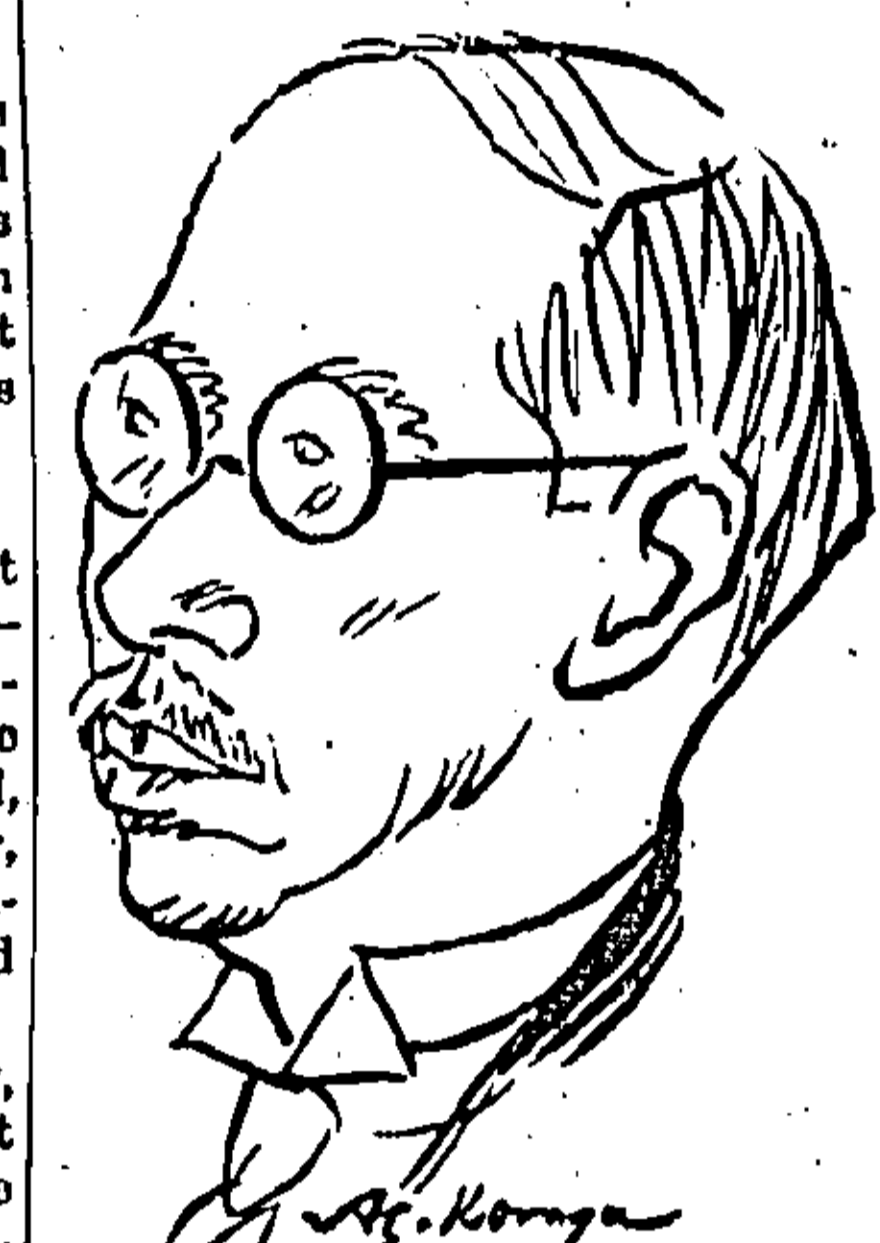

September 13, 1874—Public meeting in Hong Kong to protest against blockade of port by Chinese Customs cruisers.

September 14, 1887—Chinese transport "Wayles" driven ashore on Pescadore.

The Australian Minister for Defence (Sir George Pearce) recently stated at Canberra that, as far as his department was concerned, permission would be granted, provided that there was no alteration in the terms of the contract, but that Qantas would have to negotiate with the Postmaster-General of Australia, regarding mail traffic between the two cities, the difficulty apparently being that New England Airways, another enterprising Australian company who operate between Sydney and the northern parts of New South Wales and Brisbane, have the contract for the carriage of mails between the two cities on a poundage basis.

Hong Kong Personalities

HON. DR. S. W. TSO OBE.

This is the sixth of the exclusive "Sunday Herald" series of sketches of leading Colony residents by Mr. A. S. Konya, the talented Hungarian artist.

SO extensive are Dr. S. W. Tso's activities in connection with the welfare of the Chinese in the Colony that a friend described him as "caring for them from the cradle to the grave." This is true, insofar as his activities include representation on hospital boards, educational committees, the Sanitary Board, the Watch Committee and the Chinese Permanent Cemetery committee, as well as those of sporting bodies.

Born at Macao, Dr. Tso went to England at an early age, and was educated at Cheltenham College from 1886 to 1890, then serving his articles with a Cheltenham solicitor, and qualifying as a Solicitor of the Supreme Court of England in 1896.

In the same year he returned to Hong Kong, and was admitted as a Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Hong Kong. He is now head of the firm of Tso and Hodgson, his partner being a former Crown Solicitor.

Few men in the Colony have a wider range of interests than Dr. Tso, and it is not surprising that he finds little time for recreation or for hobbies, but, as he would explain, his activities are his hobbies, and fill the larger portion of his life.

MANY RESPONSIBILITIES
Among his present responsibilities are the following positions: Member of the Legislative Council, Member of the Board of Education, District Watch Committee, Advisory Board of the Tung Wah Hospital, Director of the Po Leung Kuk, Court of the Council of the University, Council of St. Stephen's College, Council of St. Paul's College, Board of Control of St. John's Hall, Board of Control of Morrison Hall, Council of the Church Missionary Society's Associated Schools, Secretary of the Chinese Permanent Cemetery, Vice-Chairman of the Chinese Public Dispensaries, Chairman of the Western Public Dispensary, Supervisor of the Tsan Yuk Maternity Hospital, Chairman of the Alice

"OVALTINE" is unrivalled as a food for convalescents, because it supplies concentrated nourishment in an easily digested form. It quickly establishes that progressive improvement which the patient longs to feel and the nurse desires to observe.

"Ovaltine" has a delicious flavour which pleases even the most fastidious palate, and its fragrant aroma arouses even the most fickle appetite. Made from ripe barley malt, rich creamy milk, fresh eggs and cocoa, one cup of "Ovaltine" contains more nourishment than 12 cups of beef tea or 3 eggs.

"Ovaltine" contains in correct ratio all the essential vitamins, and also all the other equally important factors of a complete and perfect food.

All Saints' Church Hall Opened Bishop At Homuntin Ceremony New House Of Meeting

THE All Saints' Church Hall and Primary School Building, adjoining the Church in Homuntin, was officially declared open by the Right Rev. Ronald Hall, Bishop of Victoria, in the presence of a large congregation of parishioners yesterday afternoon.

The building, the foundation stone of which was laid by the Bishop on June 16 last, is an imposing single-storied structure with two side wings attached to the main hall. These provide a Vicarage on one side and classrooms for the All Saints' Kindergarten and Primary School on the other side. The foundations of the building provide for two upper floors to the building, and these will be added at a later date. The total area of the building and its grounds cover over 11,000 square feet.

The other clergy who took part in the opening ceremony, held in the main hall, were the Very Rev. Dean A. Swann, the Rev. J. R. Higgs, Archdeacon Mok, the Rev. Tang Kit-ngho (Vicar of All Saints' Church), the Rev. Lee Ying-pui, the Rev. S. F. Tso and the Rev. Chung Yan-lap.

Dean Swann's Address
At the service, Dean Swann's address, which included prayer and hymns in Chinese, the Very Rev. Dean Swann addressed the congregation. He said that the new building in its capacity as a day-school and Sunday-school would help to foster the teaching of Our Lord and in preparing the younger generation for their life in this world. He stressed that children were never too young to begin to learn of Christianity if they were taught in the proper way.

The new building would not only be a place of a training for the younger generation but a house of meeting and fellowship for the older ones. "Anything that brings us together as members of one great family is in accordance with the teachings of our Heavenly Father," said Dean Swann.

Memorial Hospital, Chairman of the Mu Sang College, Honorary member of the Hong Kong Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, Hon. Commissioner of the Police Reserve, Vice-President of the Rotary Club, and member of the Sanitary Board, representing the Chinese, since 1918.

Dr. Ts'o's chief interests are the welfare of the Chinese from the health and educational point of view, his object being to preserve and improve their physical condition, and to equip them to meet the demands of modern life.

VACCINATION CAMPAIGN
One of his greatest services in the health welfare of the Chinese was his institution of the Vaccination Campaign, in collaboration with Dr. Woodman, in 1915 and 1916, and it can be said that it was largely due to Dr. Ts'o's activities that there has been such a considerable decrease in small-pox in the Colony during the past two decades.

During the campaign Dr. Ts'o hardly saw his office or his home, his hours being spent visiting Chinese in the lowest quarters, explaining with infinite patience and tact the benefits of vaccination. His efforts were rewarded, and the campaign was fully successful.

STRIKE ACTIVITIES
Not only has Dr. Ts'o benefited the Chinese in the Colony, but, through his wide influence over them, he has frequently assisted the Government, the most notable occasion being during the big strike of 1925 when, although the majority of the local Chinese kept indoors, he worked daily at the City Hall, in view of all, as Labour Controller. His efforts in enlisting volunteer labour, organising and forming street guards and raising a special Chinese Police Force, did much to

The Rev. Tsang Ki-ngho, speaking in Chinese, thanked all the subscribers towards the building fund and the many who had assisted in making the work of the building possible. He paid particular tribute to the assistance of Messrs. Wong Sam-kan, Lam Kam-kwong, Wong Shu-to, Dr. K. K. Wong (Hon. Treasurer) and the late Mr. Ho Lun, whose work as Hon. Secretary in the Church had been of the greatest help. He also thanked the European clergy for their attendance and the Hong Kong Government for the grant of the building site.

Opening Concert
A grand opening concert was held in the new Church Hall at 7.30 p.m., and was attended by a large number of parishioners.

A selection of well rendered vocal and musical items filled the programme, which was as follows:—

One week's formal remand was yesterday morning granted in the case in which Goro Kurata, a 46-year-old Japanese photographer, of No. 87 Jaffee Road, is facing a charge of maliciously publishing on August 31, a false and defamatory libel concerning the Hong Kong Police Force, in the form of an anonymous letter to the Inspector of Police, which contained the following: "All these heads are the best friend of the Police Department of Wanchai are under the influence of bribery." The case was brought before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Magistrate's Court.

BUSY WEEK FOR WHIST DRIVE

D.B.S. Term Starts
To-morrow

ACTIVITIES OF THE WEEK IN HONG KONG

The events of the week will not provide any great excitement in the Colony, although the commencement of term at the Diocesan Boys' School to-morrow will doubtless bring relief to certain harassed parents, whose sons have been around the home for the past two months.

To-day the second half of the racing season commences with the Fourth Extra Meeting of the Macao Jockey Club at Area Preta, Macao. Those who make the trip are promised a good day's sport, although certainties appear to be few and far between.

Mr. Harold Scott, who gave an excellent pianoforte recital at the Helena May on Friday, will be performing again to-night, at the Peninsula Hotel, and it is expected that all music-lovers in the Colony will make the journey across the harbour to hear him.

The Chinese Catholic Club are giving a reception this morning at 11.30 at Caine Road, in honour of the Rev. F. J. Yeung.

Solid Work is indicated by the regularity of the practices of the Philharmonic Society, the third of which will be held at the Cathedral Hall to-morrow at 5.30 p.m., and "Merrie England," when it is produced should certainly justify a visit.

The Toe H. are holding their regular social meeting at Lane Crawford's at 6 p.m. to-morrow and their fortnightly dinner at the same place on Thursday.

In the sporting line, the 20th Battery R.A., will hold their aquatic sports at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow afternoon, and again on Tuesday afternoon.

Wednesday will see the Final of the Open Singles Lawn Bowls Championship, when A. W. Grimmitt will meet D. Runjahn, at the Recrelo, while Thursday and Friday both have their aquatic sports, military men being in action again.

Thursday will see the close of entries for the Seventh Extra Race meeting of the Hong Kong Jockey Club.

There will be a ladies' whist drive at the Police Recreation Club on Wednesday and a Services whist drive at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow, while at the Kowloon Cricket Club on Thursday there will be a mixed whist drive.

St. Andrew's Club will hold another of their popular bathing pluries next Saturday, and on Sunday they will stage another band concert.

Coolidge

For stowing away on board the s.s. President Coolidge from Manila to Hong Kong, Peter Denisoff, a 20-year-old unemployed Russian, was sentenced to six weeks' hard labour by Mr. E. I. Wynne Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning.

Detective Sergeant Goddard stated that the defendant was found in hiding an hour before the ship arrived at Hong Kong in Friday.

It was found that he had been sentenced to six weeks' hard labour last November for stowing away from Shanghai.

An expulsion order was also made.

ROBBED WHILE ASLEEP

Lorry Driver Loses
His Coat

Chan Yan, 17, was charged before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Central Magistracy yesterday morning with the theft of a jacket, containing a motor driver's license and 45 cents, the property of Leung Yee, a motor-lorry driver.

Sub-Inspector McEwen said that while complainant was sleeping in his lorry accused committed the theft, and woke up just in time to see defendant walking away with his property.

Sentenced of two weeks' hard labour was imposed.

MR. JOSEPH MORRIS RETIRE

27 Years' Connection
With K.C.R.

HELPED CONSTRUCTION

A connection with the Colony extending over 27 years was severed yesterday when Mr. Joseph Morris, Chief Accountant of the Kowloon-Canton Railway left for Home on the P. and O. liner s.s. Corfu to enjoy the years of his retirement.

Mr. Morris has been associated with the railway during the whole of his stay in the Colony, and is the last remaining official who worked on the construction of the railway.

Mr. Morris was appointed Chief Accountant of the construction staff in 1907 and when the railway was brought into operation, three years later, his services were retained. He has been Chief Accountant since, except for two occasions when he acted as chief storekeeper.

Mrs. Morris and his two daughters are at present at Home, and the whole family will be missed by a large circle of acquaintances.

A keen sportsman, Mr. Morris is an active golf and tennis player, and for many years has been Hon. Treasurer of the Railway Recreation Club.

GALA NIGHT AT THE HONG KONG HOTEL

Welcome Return Of Empire Trio

SANDS AND DAWN WITH NEW REPERTOIRE

In spite of the heat, a record crowd was present at the Hong Kong Hotel last evening for the special Gala Night at which the Empire Trio, the well-known Australian entertainers, and Sands and Dawn gave a combined return performance.

The Roof Garden presented a brilliant scene, every one of the 200 places for dinner being fully booked, while well over 100 guests arrived for dancing and the cabaret after dinner.

The Empire Trio, who gave an entertaining performance at the Roof Garden a fortnight ago, again thrilled the audience with their burlesque and acrobatic performances.

Sands and Dawn, who entertained at the Peninsula Hotel Rose Room last season, were given a warm and heart-felt welcome on their return to the Colony with an entirely new repertoire. Their new song and dance numbers were heartily applauded on every appearance. Festivities carried on far into the night, and it was not until 2 a.m. that the final party left the Hotel.

U.S. STRIKE

TROOP PROTECTION
URGED

300,000 Estimated Idle
At Moment

SPECIAL TO SUNDAY HERALD.
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924. Received September 8, 8.24 a.m.)

Washington, Yesterday.
The American Federation of Labour has ordered all the unions to support the textile strike. The statement means that A.F.L. unions will give moral as well as financial support to the textile strikers.

It is said that there is no possibility of the strike ending until the workers get definite concessions.

The Union officials have asked for Federal troop protection, claiming that mill-owners are using National Guardsmen.

A "United Press" survey shows that more than 300,000 are idle. Thousands of National Guardsmen and Deputies are protecting the mills and violence is continuing.

The chairman of the strike committee of the united textile workers union, Mr. Francis Gorman, claims that the industry is paralyzed. The president of the cotton and textile institute, Mr. George Sloan, however, claims

Simple Gratitude Appreciated

How Man Should Strive To Repay Debts

God's Example To World

(By the Rev. J. N. Lewis Bryan.)

IF there is one thing in life which we, as ordinary human beings appreciate, it is simple gratitude. Englishman are sometimes accused of being cold-blooded because they do not always appreciate the rather effusive manners of their Continental cousins, but no one would turn down the idea of a friend to whom he had rendered some real deep personal service, coming back to give him just a word of appreciation and thanks.

We often say that politeness costs nobody anything, and surely it is ordinary politeness that demands that we should be grateful for what others do, or have done for us. The greater the service the greater the thanks should be.

We read in our local papers last week, of the appeal for more consideration for the lepers of this Colony, and nothing could be more worthy of support. Those who are Christians are under a definite obligation in this matter. That the lepers should be cleansed, was one of the "Marching Orders" (as Wellington called them) of the Christian Church.

One of the most touching incidents in the life of our Lord is closely connected with this disease, and also with human gratitude. One day He healed a band of ten, who came to Him in the extremity of their need. One would have thought that the first thought in their minds would have been that of gratitude, yet out of ten, only one came back to thank Him. "Where were the nine?" He said, "where are the nine?"

We are inclined, and quite rightly, to judge the nine pretty harshly, but we sometimes forget that we ourselves, fall in this respect in many aspects of life and its relationships.

Gratitude To Parents
If, by any chance, there are any young people reading this article, I would like to remind them of the debt of gratitude which they owe to their parents. You remember Shakespeare's Play "King Lear." He was supposed to be King of Britain 800 B.C. He had ruled long and successfully. At the age of 80 he decided to retire, and divided his kingdom between his two daughters, who had always declared that they loved him passionately. His intention was to spend his declining years visiting first one and then the others. But as soon as they got the kingdom, they came out in their true colours. They grudged their old father room and food, refusing to allow him even to see his old friends, and at last we find him wandering over the moor in the midst of a storm crying: "How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is, to have a thankless child."

The vast majority of us, owe our parents a debt of gratitude, that we that more mills were open yesterday than on Thursday. United Press, per S. E. Levy and Company.

Although the forces of organized labour are being mobilised behind the textile strike, there is no possibility of a general labour walkout stated Mr. William H. Green, President of the American Federation of Labour, yesterday.

Manufacturing Activity Not Disrupted
SPECIAL TO SUNDAY HERALD.
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924. Received September 8, 8.37 a.m.)

New York, Yesterday.
It is still early to appraise the strike, declare Messrs. Dun and Bradstreet, the market specialists, but its half-hearted beginning may be an indication of lack of approval.

There are ample textile stocks, therefore, the strike will not disrupt manufacturing and merchandising activity, they added.

United Press, per S. E. Levy and Company.
(Latest cable on page One) can never hope to repay. Many of them made tremendous sacrifices for us, and children these days, take so much for granted. It is very nice and right that we should lay wreaths upon their graves, but it is a better thing to show our thankfulness while they are still alive.

Then we owe our thanks to those who have been good to us. There is rather a wonderful story tucked away in the Old Testament. It is about a little town called Jabesh-Gilead, which at one period was besieged by the Ammonites who threatened the inhabitants, that when they were captured, the right eye of everyone would be removed. Saul hastily gathered an army and delivered the town.

Suek To Repay Debts
Forty years passed on, an Saul, an old man now, was defeated by the Philistines. His dead body was fished in scorn to the walls of a Philistine city. The men of Jabesh heard of this, and remembering the debt they owed him, marched across Palestine by night, removed the body, and gave it decent burial in their own city.

It is up to us, when we owe a debt, to remember it, and look out for a chance of repaying it at the first opportunity. Think of the countless unknown people in whose debt we stand. Cicero tells of an aged man who was planting an apple tree. When asked why he was doing it, at his age, he replied "Some one planted trees for me, before I was born. I am planting these to show my gratitude."

The poorest child to-day is better off than the greatest noble in the past. William the Conqueror hadn't a pane of glass in his windows, or even a chimney in his palaces by which to let out the smoke.

Think of what we owe to the patient researchers of unknown doctors, who have saved us from the diseases incurable in earlier ages. There are men to-day, dying by inches as the result of their work on the "Ray," which plays so large a part in clinical diagnoses. To the Reformers who won us our liberty—to those who have cleaned up conditions in the mines and factories—to the inventors who have given us modern machinery, and helped in a thousand ways to make life happier and better.

The Greatest Debt Of All
How can we repay our debt to them? There is one way at least. We can determine to do everything in our power to leave the world in which we are living a better place because we have been in it and passed this way, to bring laughter out of tears, and joy to those in sorrow, to throw the weight of our influence always on the side of the things that really matter.

Last, and greatest of all we owe a debt of gratitude to God Himself. How often we are inclined to forget that fact. We accept all the gifts He has given us as a matter of course. We came into a world prepared for us across aeons of time, all the wonders of nature He has given us for our pleasure or our use, the seasons as they come and go, the dawn and the dew, the beauty of flowers and the glory of the harvest, and the health of mind and body with which to enjoy them.

At the very core and centre of our religion there stands the greatest gift of all—a life laid down in willing sacrifice on the hillside of Calvary, where a debt was paid that we could never have paid in time or in eternity. What about that?

Say, shall we yield Him in costly devotion
Odours of Edom, and offerings divine?
Gems of the mountain, and pearls
of the ocean?
Myrrh from the forest, or gold
from the mine?
No—one thing, and one thing only—the sacrifice of a broken and a contrite heart, the first fruits of our lives and service to Him Who has given us all things so richly to enjoy.

SPECIAL TO SUNDAY HERALD. (By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924, received September 8, 8.24 a.m.)

New York, Yesterday. Chartists consider that the technical position of the market has weakened.

A favourable factor yesterday was that department store sales during September are above those of last year.

Unfavourable factor were that two seats on the Stock Exchange were sold for $90,000 each, against $95,000 which was the previous price paid for a seat, that the Nash Motor Co. has reduced prices as much as $150 per unit and that bank clearings totalled U.S.$3,515,269,000, against U.S.$3,777,222,000 during the corresponding period of last year.—United Press, per S. E. Levy and Company.

STEEL PRODUCTION AT LOW MARK

August Figures Down To March 1933

SPECIAL TO SUNDAY HERALD. (By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1924, received September 8, 8.27 a.m.)

New York, Yesterday. The Steel Institute reports that steel production in the United States in August was 22.93 per cent. of capacity, the lowest since March, 1933.

Dow Jones predicts that the United States Steel Corporation's August shipments, to be announced on Monday, will probably be only 15,000 tons below July shipments of 369,938 tons, thereby holding up remarkably well.

August pig iron production was 1,052,382 tons, against 1,224,826 in July, and 1,833,391 tons in August last year.

COLONY WATER SUPPLY

Heavy Storage In All Reservoirs

INDIVIDUAL CONSUMPTION INCREASE

The total amount of water in storage in the Island reservoirs on September 1, was 2,995,170,000 gallons, as compared with 1,434,290,000 at the same time last year, while the total storage on the mainland was 687,250,000 as compared with 661,970,000 at the same time last year.

The consumption of water on the Island during August was 418,340,000 gallons, as compared with 403,780,000 last August, making a monthly consumption of 34.6 gallons as against 33.7 gallons.

On the Mainland the total consumption for August was 220,100,000, as compared with 227,290,000 last August, the consumption per head being 21.5 gallons, as against 23.1 gallons.

All mainland reservoirs were full on September 1, while on the Island the only reservoir to show any appreciable drop was Wong Nei Chung, which was 1 foot 10 inches below level, the remainder being level or within three inches of level.

The rainfall for 1934, to September 1, was 83.795 inches as compared with 40.510 inches over the corresponding period last year.

SPECIAL TO SUNDAY HERALD. New York, Yesterday.

The magazine, World Petroleum, has announced that the world production of crude oil for the first six months of this year was 733,162,796 barrels, as compared with 680,585,975 for the corresponding period of last year.—United Press, per S. E. Levy and Company.

DOLLAR DIRECTORY ON JANUARY 1

To Be Greatly Improved And Enlarged

INCREASED CIRCULATION AND FULLER DETAIL

CO-OPERATION URGED

The popular Hong Kong Dollar Directory, which is recognized as one of the most unique and cheapest directories in the world, is to be greatly improved and enlarged for the 1935 edition, and a campaign is now being launched for this purpose, in which the co-operation of all business people and residents of the Colony is heartily invited.

It has been definitely planned to make December 1 the closing date for all entries and changes, and to have the 1935 Dollar Directory issued before the end of December, so the books may be on sale at the beginning of January.

It is urgently requested that all firms may return the clippings sent to them for correction, together with their orders for bold type, immediately in order to assist the early production date.

The intention is to publish several thousand more copies of the Dollar Directory than have been printed in former years, for increased circulation in the Colony and throughout the world.

It is hoped that the slogan, "A Dollar Directory on every desk and in every home in Hong Kong" may be realized.

There are a number of firms who now purchase enough copies of the Dollar Directory to place one on the desk of each person in the office, and it is hoped that all firms will do so in 1935.

Many homes would no more think of being without a Dollar Directory for convenient reference than they would of doing without a Webster's Dictionary.

A special effort is being made this year to get a Dollar Directory into every home throughout Hong Kong and the New Territories.

1,000 Copies For England

In addition to increased local circulation, it is planned to send at least 1,000 Dollar Directories to the leading Chambers of Commerce in Home countries, and to leading manufacturers. His Majesty's Trade Commissioner and the various Consulates will co-operate in this plan to boost Hong Kong.

Every one in the Colony is invited to send in corrections and additional entries of firms or residents for the 1935 issue at once. Only those who have had experience in directory compilation know how difficult it is to get information correctly listed, and to avoid omissions and errors.

Every resident should feel it his or her responsibility to furnish correct information at the earliest possible date, notifying the compilers of any death, removal, marriage or other change since last year.

Hong Kong folks have reason to be proud of their unique DOLLAR DIRECTORY and if all will heartily co-operate in making it more complete and accurate they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are helping to make this popular volume even more useful.

GOVERNMENT BOND STRENGTH

British Funding Loan At New High

London, Yesterday.

A feature of yesterday's business on the London Stock Exchange, which was generally very restricted, was the continued investment demand for British Government securities.

War Loan, 3½ per cent., was unchanged at 105 1/16. The 3 per cent. funding loan strengthened to a new high record of 99%, consolidated 4 per cent. rose to 113 1/16, and 3 per cent. local loans to 92%.—British Wireless Service.

AMERICA TRAPS SPECULATORS

Heavy Franc Offerings Against The Dollar

New York, Yesterday.

Wall Street operators attribute the recovery of the dollar to the United States Stabilisation Fund heavily offering French francs, thus trapping foreign speculators, against the dollar.

This is believed to be a prelude to Government financing totalling U.S.$1,725,000,000.—United Press, per S. E. Levy and Company.

THREE FILIPINOS IN TROUBLE

Came To Colony Without Passports

Three Filipinos, Mauro Dayan, Momicio Christobal and Clodoaldo Arreta, were charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy yesterday morning, with entering the Colony without valid passports.

Detective - Sergeant Mottram stated that the three men came to the Colony last Friday by the R.M.S. Empress of Russia, and since then had been seeking employment here. Sergeant Mottram said that arrangements had been made with the Canadian Pacific Steamship and Company to send the men back to Manila by the R.M.S. Empress of Japan next Friday.

Meanwhile the men were released on $100 bail each until Friday.

STRONGEST TEAM TO VISIT SHANGHAI

experts Lau Po-hay, W. Lawrence and L. Rosa Pereira, whose times are but two seconds away. It is even possible, that the competition afforded by Dr. Ohlwein will see their local marks even bettered.

Breast-Stroke

Hong Kong holds two trump cards in the breast-stroke event. Both Kwok Chun-hang (S.C.A.A.) and E. M. Marques (V.R.C.) are well ahead of the best that either Shanghai can produce. Kwok, who is the champion of China and British champion over 200 Yards, is a clear 7 seconds ahead of the nearest Northern rival. Marques forced the Selection Committee to concede him a place in the team by equalling the two-year-old Colony's record of 77 secs. Kwok, however, had lowered it to 73 secs. in the same race.

Long Distance Aces

In W. Lawrence, L. Rosa Pereira, A. A. Roza and W. T. Campbell, the Colony has four men who can out-swim the best in the North. Lawrence's 220 Yards record of 2 mins. 30 secs. is far in advance of anything established in the North, while Roza-Pereira has steadily improved on the 440 Yards and 880 Yards distances until he is now within striking distance of both these two 5-year-old Colony records. His present times over these distances should give him a comfortable win in the Triangular contest.

A. A. Roza, the youngest member of the team, is an admirable second string to Roza-Pereira, and can be relied on to follow home close on the heels of his Club-mate. Both he and Campbell showed that they are in fine fettle by setting up their best times to-date at the recent C.A.A. gala in the 400 Metres event.

Our Sprint Contenders

The Colony's sprint aces are E. B. da Roza and T. Paget. Both have bettered 26 secs. mark for the 50 Yards in practice, and, although not favoured to romp home easy winners, are certain to be to the fore in an exciting finish. Lack of competition has perhaps held W. Lawrence back from breaking the Colony's 59 secs. mark for the 100 Yards, but he will certainly receive all he can wish for in competition from the Tientsin and Shanghai swimmers. Noel Hammond, who recently established 57 1/5 secs. for this distance to create a Shanghai record, should win the event for his city.

Lawrence, however, will not be far behind and should, in the light of the keen rivalry, beat Archie Logan for second place.

Our Diving Expert

Edward Roza, the Colony's diving expert, will not be far behind and should, in the light of the keen rivalry, beat Archie Logan for second place.

SOUTH CHINA'S FIVE CHAMPIONSHIPS

1932 Record Reviewed At Meeting

The South China Athletic Association held a business meeting, at the Association's premises in China Building yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mok Hing, the acting Chairman, presided.

A review of the activities and achievements of the Association for the year 1932 was given by the Chairman, who said that during that year five athletic championships were won by the Club. They were the championships of the Hong Kong Baseball League, Championship of the Football League, Swimming Championship of the Hong Kong Federation Meeting, the Championships at the Fourth Kwangtung Aquatic Meeting, and the Ping Pong Championship of Hong Kong.

Following the reading of the financial reports, and brief discussions of miscellaneous items, the meeting was brought to a successful close.

ing expert and 7-times champion of the Colony, has made a vast improvement since his last visit to the northern city in 1931; and if he can master the one-metre board of the French pool within the short time allowed for practice, there is no doubt that he will greatly impress the judges with his spectacular variety of neat and well-executed dives. S. H. Wong will give him full support.

It must be extremely gratifying to a veteran Mr. C. J. Cooke, swimming Secretary of the V. R. C., that a team of such a high calibre should have been the result of his keen and active interest in local aquatics.

Visit To Japan

Several members of the Colony's Interport team, including L. Roza-Pereira, W. Lawrence, E. M. Marques, E. B. da Roza, A. A. da Roza and T. Paget are contemplating a short visit to Kobe and Yokohama after the contest at Shanghai.

Kobe and Yokohama, it will be recalled, were invited to participate in the swimming contest, but were obliged to decline the offer.

The Team

The team consists of Lionel Roza-Pereira, W. Lawrence, A. A. da Roza, E. B. da Roza, T. Paget, E. M. Marques, W. T. Campbell, S. H. Wong, Kwok Chun-hang, C. E. Roza-Pereira, Chan Shek-pui and W. Fullagher.

The members of the team who will not go to Japan will return on September 19, by the President Jefferson.

Hong Kong won the contest in 1931 by a single point margin, and are present holders of the coveted Taggart Cup.

EXTENSIVE GERMAN

Sydney people are very keen to have the line extended to their city especially in view of the fact that Sydney is the largest city in the Commonwealth, and the one to which most of the passengers and mail matter will travel.

AUSTRALIAN DETAILS
Some interesting facts have come to hand regarding this last section of the Imperial Airways line. Quantas will operate five D.H. 86 Express Air Liners (four D.H. 86 Gipsy-Six), each capable of carrying ten passengers, probably starting operations in December or January.

For the first three months no passengers will be carried between Singapore and Darwin, but at the end of that period it will be possible to fly passengers from England to Australia in 14 days.

With the co-operation of the Government the company are planning new landing grounds and hotels. Quarantine stations will also be provided to guard against the importation of Asiatic diseases. Vaccination will be compulsory for all overseas passengers.

A RISKY LINE
Further tenders accepted are those submitted by the MacRobertson Miller Aviation Company for the Katherine-Perth section, and Mr. C. A. Butler. Katherine, known to bushmen as "The Katherine," is due South of Darwin, and until the railway was extended to Birdum, was the rail-head. This service will be run by D. H. Dragons, and, I should imagine, will be one of the most risky air-services in the world.

This line will cross between 1,600 and 2,000 of the most arid and inhospitable country in the world, and, contrary to conditions in Queensland, where for thousands of square miles every mile is a landing ground, much of this country is impossible to land on, being strewn with colossal boulders, and cleft with volcanic fissures.

It was in this country that the unfortunate Keith Anderson was lost in his fruitless search for Kingsford Smith, when Smith and Ulm were lost at Coffee Royal, near Wyndham, on their attempted record flight from Melbourne in England.

I remember discussing this part of the country from the flying point of view, with Lester Brain, one of the best-known Australian pilots, and one who has covered almost every flying inch of Australia. He actually found Anderson's remains, and directed the land party who retrieved his body and the machine.

CLAUD BUTLER
Mr. C. A. Butler, who flew to Australia in record time, has secured the contract for the Charleville-Cootamundra section, connecting the southern Australian States with the main line.

The last time I met Claud Butler was about this time last year, when he was conducting a "barnstorming" tour round the bush towns. An exceptionally safe pilot, he should do well on his new venture.

Airways in the smaller European states are doing well, last year Rumanian State air lines, (L.A.R.E.S.), flew 162,654 miles, carried 1,717 passengers and nine tons of mail, with a 90.42 per cent. regularity.

FEMALE PRISONER'S
DEATHTyphoid Case At Lai Chi Kok

"NATURAL CAUSES" VERDICT

A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by a jury, consisting of Messrs. L. G. Robertson (foreman), S. MacNider and K. Gerloff, at an inquiry into the death of Li Oi, a 57-year-old female prisoner at Lai Chi Kok Prison, who died at 1.25 p.m. on Friday in the Prison Hospital from typhoid fever. The inquiry was held before Mr. E. I. Wynne Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's yesterday morning.

Mrs. J. Pearson, matron at Lai Chi Kok female prison gave evidence stating that Li Oi was sentenced to one month's hard labour, with the option of paying $25 fine, on August 14 and was admitted to the prison the same day.

On August 26 she was admitted to the prison hospital where she remained until she died.

Dr. J. B. Mackie, the medical officer at Lai Chi Kok Prison Hospital stated that he put the deceased on half-labour, owing to her moderate condition. On August 26, when she was admitted to hospital, it was found that she was seriously ill, suffering from typhoid. She remained the same until Friday when she had a sudden change and died at 1.25 p.m.

GAOL PRISONER'S
DEATHInquest On Dysentery
Victim

ONE MONTH IN PRISON

A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by the jury at the inquest held at the Central Magistrate's yesterday morning into the circumstances surrounding the death of Lam Lai-yin, alias Lam Yu-him, a prisoner at the Victoria Gaol, who died on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen sat as Coroner, with a jury comprised of Messrs. J. Gardner (foreman), Li Kwan-shek and Ko Yau-cheong.

Chief Warder H. Barrett said that the deceased, who was serving a term of nine months' hard labour, was admitted to the gaol hospital on August 29 and died on Friday afternoon. The deceased, who was 58 years of age, was sentenced on August 1, but owing to poor health, he was put on half hard labour.

Dr. J. A. R. Selby, acting prison medical officer, said that deceased was suffering from bacillary dysentery when he was admitted to the hospital, and became progressively worse until he died. Evidence of bacillary dysentery and a terminal of pneumonia in the left lung was found at the post mortem examination. The cause of death, in Dr. Selby's opinion, was due to bacillary dysentery complicated by pneumonia.

A commemoration service in memory of Dr. Sun Yat-sen's first movement to dethrone the Manchu dynasty in 1895 will be held by Kuomintang headquarters in Nanking to-morrow.

All this may sound irrelevant, but it shows how air-minded the world at large is becoming, even if we in Hong Kong have not shown any particular trend in that direction lately.

NEW PROCEDURE FOR SOVIET'S LEAGUE ENTRY

POLAND EXPECTED TO CAPITULATE

AVOIDING "DISAGREEABLE SURPRISE"

Geneva, Yesterday.

A secret session of the League Council will be convened this afternoon to discuss the question of procedure as regard the Soviet's admission to the League of Nations. It is reported that according to present plans the Powers favouring the admission of Russia will put their names on a list headed by members of the League Council.

When over two-thirds of the signatures are obtained, the proposal for admission will be made before the Council, without the possibility of a disagreeable surprise.

The French Foreign Minister, M. Louis Barthou, had a long interview with Dr. Joseph Beck, the Polish Foreign Minister, yesterday afternoon. It is understood that it was none too cordial, but despite the recent crowding divergence in Franco-Polish relations, it is not believed that Poland will oppose the admission of Russia to a seat on the Council.

It is expected that Dr. Beck will suggest revision of the regulations governing the elections to the Council and re-assert Poland's claim to a permanent seat but will not make it conditional on her agreeing to the grant of a seat to Russia.—Reuter.

THE PASSING HOUR

Helena May on Friday evening, and some pieces by Liszt that are not often heard. Those who braved the adverse temperature enjoyed the renderings thoroughly; but the heat unfortunately made it impossible to include the artist's own compositions; which we hope will not be omitted to-night. He has written quite a number of things based on Scottish folk songs and traditional airs that would be a welcome addition to the repertoire that we have been privileged to hear in Hong Kong. With a little encouragement he would perhaps find inspiration in his present short visit to us. What, by the way, over and above the sirens of the harbour and the newboys of the streets, and the hawkers, are the characteristic chords of Hong Kong life? And now we come to think of it, have not some of the most familiar of the assaults upon our ears become silent, the last few weeks owing to the action of the police? Speaking merely as an appreciative amateur I should be vastly interested to discover how Hong Kong could be expressed in music. The producer of 'China Seas', for which the sequences have just been 'shot', might be open to give us some of the results of his enterprise with a really suitable musical interpretation.

ADVANTAGES OF KLIM

It is uniform in composition, being the combined milk of many herds.

When liquefied the cream does not rise, thus preserving this uniformity in the fluid state.

It is assuredly free of pathogenic bacteria; therefore it is safe.

When liquefied it has a bacteria count which averages less than 3,000 per c.c. and is equivalent in freshness to fluid Milk delivered ONE HOUR after pasteurization.

Its finely divided casein precipitates in soft friable curds exposing a much greater surface to digestive action, probably resulting in more complete assimilation. In this respect it resembles breast milk.

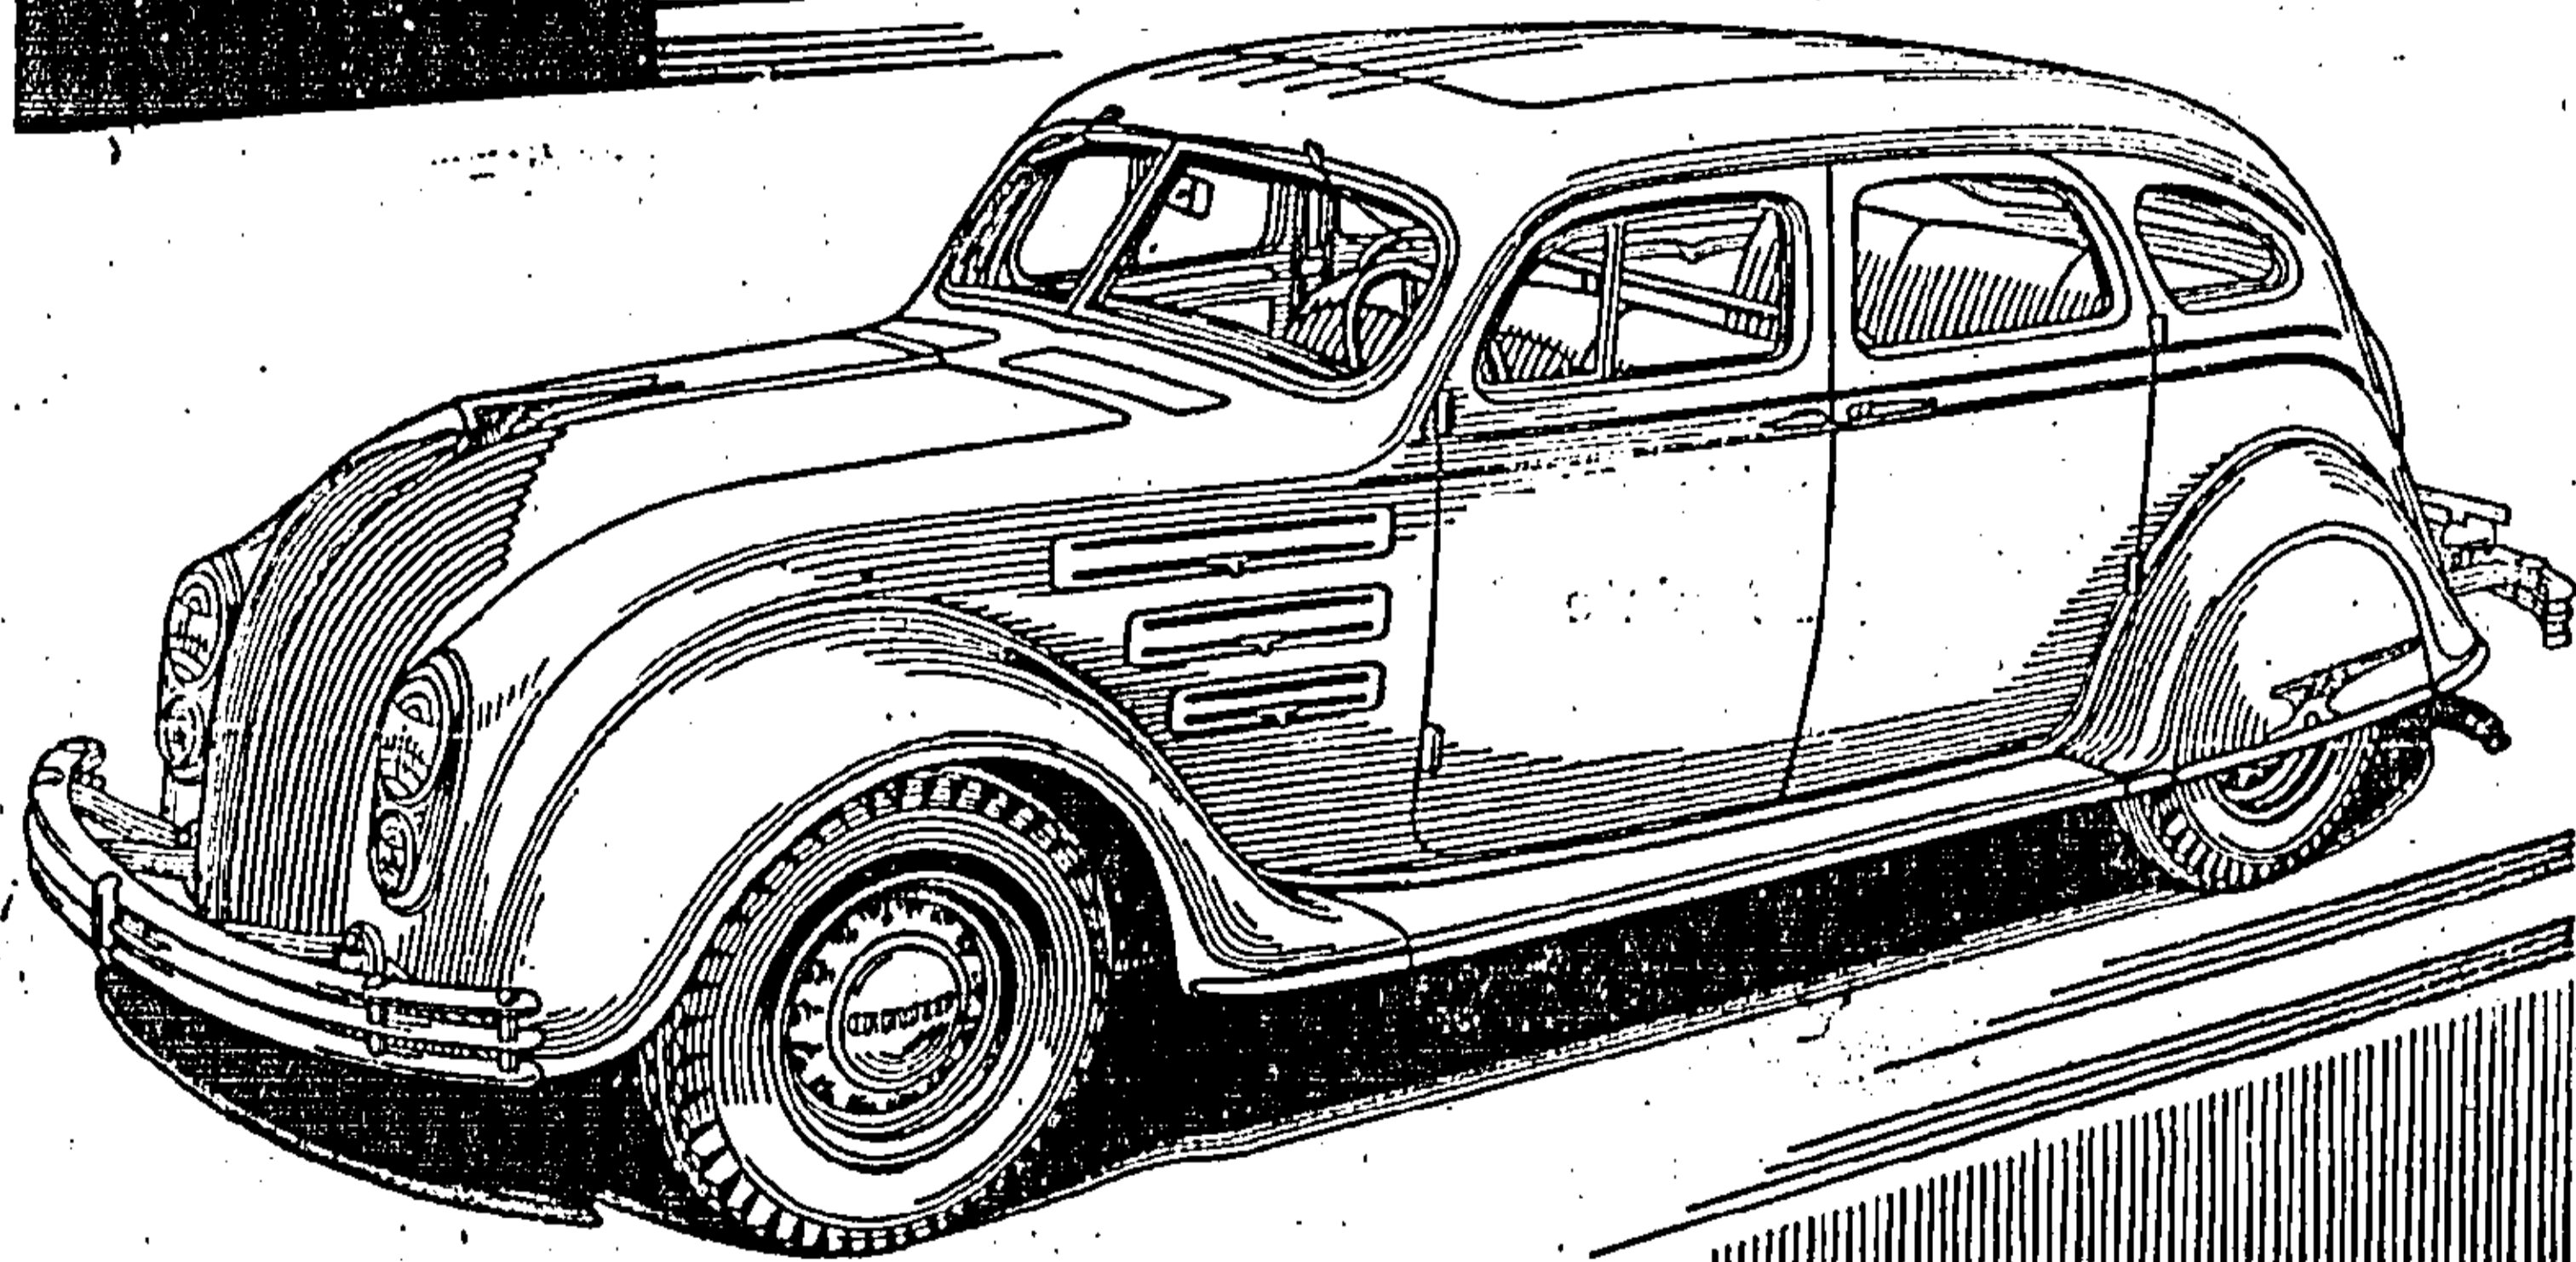

The smaller fat globules remain in even emulsion averting irregularities in the formula and in the feeding itself. Further a greater surface is exposed to the action of the digestive juices.

CHINESE OPERA AT QUEEN'S THEATRE

Splendid Acting By Evelyn Chen

SPLENDOR OF CHINA ON THE STAGE

A spectacle, unusual to Europeans, is provided by the series of classical Chinese plays, produced by the Marlin Opera Company, starring Miss Evelyn Chen, the famous Chinese actress and dancer, which are running for a short season at the Queen's Theatre.

Although the plays are entirely sung and spoken in Chinese it is quite simple for the European to follow the trend of events from the splendid acting of Miss Chen and the 20 members of the Company, while a short description of the scenes given in the programme is of material assistance.

The costumes display to the full the splendour of Chinese artistry and are in themselves worth seeing, while the art of Miss Chen, who, with her simple actions and mimic dances, portrays the life and love of a simple Chinese village maid is something quite refreshing after a series of stereotyped screen plays. The acting was excellent throughout, and for those who have not yet seen a Chinese play or opera it is well worth a visit.

REDS RETIRE SOUTHWARD. Meanwhile, a report from General Chen Cheng, Commander-in-chief of the Central Route Anti-Red Forces, states that his troops are closing in on Hsingkuo, a Communist lair in Kwangsi. The Reds are said to be retreating southward, while the Government forces are pressing down.

General Chen claims to have smashed many Communist forts on the northern outskirts of Hsingkuo by artillery fire and aerial bombardment. Six hundred Communist troops have surrendered to the Government forces and have turned over 400 rifles and some machine guns, the Nanking general adds.

GEN. PAI LEAVES CANTON

The Reds in Southern Hunan are moving westward, although Kwangsi troops are attempting to prevent them from going through their province. In view of the critical conditions in Northern Kwangsi, General Pai Hsing-hsi, Second-in-Command of the Kwangsi army, left Canton yesterday afternoon for Nanning to resume his military duties.

FIERCE FIGHTING IN FUKIEN

100 Reds Killed At Futowshan

VOLUNTEER'S VICTORY

Canton, Yesterday. A band of some 500 remnant Communist bandits in western Fukien was rounded up by a bandit suppression volunteer corps under the command of the Kwangtung 1st Independent Division on September 4.

The outlaws, who belonged to the bogus Protective Corps, created disturbances in Ho-chai, 20 miles from Wu-pai, western Fukien, in an attempt to plunder the town.

The head of the volunteer corps upon report immediately switched several hundreds of his men to the scene to frustrate the bandits. The volunteers marched by two different routes.

A fierce encounter took place in Futowshan, near Ho-chai. Owing to shortage of munitions, the bandits retreated after 3 hours' fighting. As a result, over 100 bandits were killed, 50 captured, and some 30 rifles taken.—Central Press.

Extermination Only Matter Of DaysHSIAO KUK ON RETREAT

Canton, Yesterday. After sustaining a heavy loss as the result of a furious battle at Shang River with the joint forces of Hunan, Kwangtung and Kwangsi, the Communist bandits under Hsiao Kuk have retreated toward Taichow and Yungming, knowing that it is difficult to maintain a foothold on the south border of Hunan.

In order to clear up the remnant outlaws, the Kwangsi troops, commanded by Lieutenant-General Chow Chu-fong, are marching to Lung-fu Pass to flank them and the Kwangtung 3rd Independent Division is pushing westward from Yichang and Pin-chow to prevent them moving to western Kwangsi, while the troops of Hunan are pursuing behind.

It is anticipated that extermination of the outlaws is only a matter of days.—Central Press.

JEFF DICKSON GIVEN REBUFF BY JUDGE MERRIMAN

Earlier in the week Dickson was stated to have disconnected all telephones at the White City and printed a stipulation on all tickets forbidding holders to communicate with the B.B.C. and forbidding anybody to leave the Stadium during the fight, without a special permit.

On the occasion of the Harvey-Petersen fight last June the B.B.C. broadcasted a commentary, in spite of Dickson's refusal to permit broadcasting from the ring.

Lighting Strikes Ship

MANY STILL TRAPPED. Bodies have started to float ashore in the Spring Lake vicinity, but little attention is given to them as all are concentrating on the exhausted survivors.

First aid stations have been established, and Red Cross workers are providing food and clothing. Townswomen are making coffee and other hot drinks. It appears that few suffered more than cuts, abrasions, exposure and slight burns.

The Coastguard cutter, Tampa, has wirelessed that it is standing by attempting to rescue "a number of passengers grouped on the forecastle deck."

It is said that the liner appears to be gutted and that the passengers have sought the only apparent haven of safety.

The Monarch of Bermuda is still standing by.

AEROPANE SIGHTS BODIES. A National Guard aeroplane which circled over the liner has reported several floating bodies.

It is said that the ship is slowly drifting towards the shore.

So far, 182 of the passengers and crew have been rescued.

A message from Allenhurst, New Jersey, states that several bodies have been washed up on the shore there from the Morro Castle.—Reuter.

14 SURVIVORS LANDED

The liner Andrea F. Luckenbach, has reached the Morro Castle and is picking up survivors. Two other liners have also arrived at the spot.

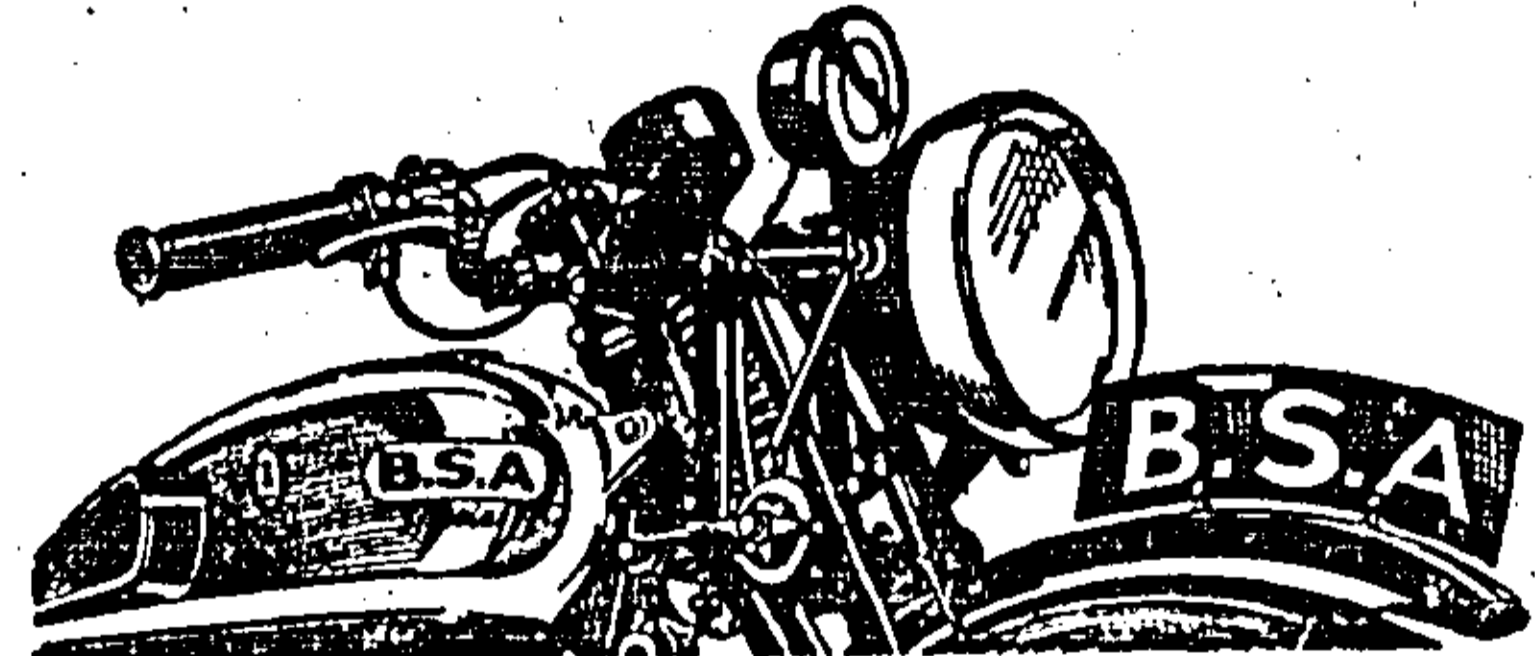

The Asbury Park coastguard reports that 14 survivors have been landed from lifeboats at Spring Lake.—Reuter.

Marchant's Gold Label Whisky Contract Bridge Competition.

MARCHANT'S GOLD LABEL WHISKY.SOLUTION OF HAND No. 3 (Published in S. Herald Sept. 2)

The only real interest of this hand lies in the bidding which should be as follows:—

1	Diamond	One Spade (1)	2 Spades (2)	Pass
3	Clubs	Pass	3 Hearts (3)	Pass
4	Diamonds (4)	Pass	6 Clubs	Pass
7	Clubs	Double	Pass	Pass

- (1) A fair defensive bid, S. having opened.
- (2) A slam invitation, showing a very strong hand with no losers in Spades.
- (3) Without the Ace the right moment to show the Heart suit is now.
- (4) Showing a solid 5 suit.

The play of the hand is simple, as the Diamonds clear in three rounds, and on the last two Diamonds two of Dummy's Hearts can be discarded, while for the other three Hearts South has trumps. South should take out only one round of trumps before establishing his diamonds in case the latter suit is not divided 3-2.

W's original lead should be either the King of Spades or, better possibly, a small trump, but the grand slam can be made against any defence.

No correct solution of the bidding was received, though several competitors started a right with "One D.", "One S.", "Two S.", "Pass", "Three C." and reached a final bid of grand slam in Clubs. Of these, however, all but two chose the Ace of Hearts for W's opening lead.

The best solution was that of

MR. LEO SILVA,

c/o the Ned. Indische Handelsbank.

signals were repeating that foolish phrase—"Beware: you are in greater danger than you suppose!" I don't know how long I stood brooding out there, but when I turned back towards the station my coat was dripping wet, and as I caught sight of the clock I saw it was already twenty minutes past the hour.

The train was late. In the mood I was I could not help but be worried. Then for the first time my fear became distinct—specialised. Suppose the danger was to Rosemary, suppose something had happened which would prevent her ever coming! The thought was so terrible to me that I think I must have groaned, for I noticed a porter eyeing me curiously. I moved on towards the barrier and with each step that fear grew more distinct.

By the time I reached the gate I was convinced that Rosemary was dead, and dead in the most horrible way. The ticket collector was in a bad temper. The train was late, that was all he knew or cared; no, there had been no news of an accident. I went back and sat on a seat against the railings at the side of the platform. I felt very cold and terribly alone.

When the train did finally arrive I was at first too dazed to realise it; then, with the suddenness of all violent emotion, I reacted back to my early cheerfulness. I laughed out loud and ran across the platform to intercept the thin stream of passengers at the gate. Cold, angry, fat, thin, male, female, the Noah's Ark family filed past. There were not very many of them, and again the platform was empty; now even the porters and the Jew had gone.

And Rosemary had not come. It took a long time to dawn on me. My relief that there had been no accident after all, been no accident.

But there is one more thing to tell. Next day when I opened my evening paper I read in the stop press news of the suicide of a well-known business man whose partner had swindled him and left him to face bankruptcy, and perhaps criminal proceedings, alone.

His name was George Marshall; his business something to do with maize in South Carolina; and suddenly it dawned on me that the warnings of the dark-haired lady had been given to him, for it was his pennies that I had used!

£200,000 OFFER REFUSED

Southampton.
Mrs. E. L. W. McLean, of Washington, the owner of the famous Hope diamond, which is reputed to have a sinister influence on anyone associated with it, is now in England after a cruise to the North Cape and Russia.

Mrs. McLean, who wore the diamond in a pendant, said: "I have had it for 25 years, and it has not brought me any bad luck, although it seems to hurt people around me. During the present trip one of my friends handled the diamond and was taken ill. Six years ago a man who touched it took poison shortly afterwards and died three days later."

Mrs. McLean, who wears the diamond everywhere, is understood to have refused an offer of £200,000 for it.

PREACHER REFUSED DOCTOR

Bitten Twice By Rattlesnake

"FAITHFUL CAN COME TO NO HARM"

Sylva (North Carolina).
Mr. Albert Teester, a local preacher, who defied death in the pulpit when he flourished a rattlesnake before his congregation saying "the faithful can come to no harm," is said to-day to be recovering from the snake bites he received.

Mr. Teester was bitten twice by the rattlesnake. He claims that the fact that he is better to-day proves the truth of St. Luke X, 19, which says:—"Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you."

The preacher nearly died of suffocation as a result of his tongue swelling, but he refused medical aid.

"I am a disciple of God," he said. "He will take care of me."

TURKS BAN THE "CAN-CAN"

"Stomach Dance" That Was Famous

The "can-can" — or famous "stomach dance" — has been banned by the authorities at Istanbul. The reason given for this decision is that the dance "offends public morals."

The dance, which is one of the oldest in the East, has always been popular in Turkey and was frequently danced at marriages and other festivities.

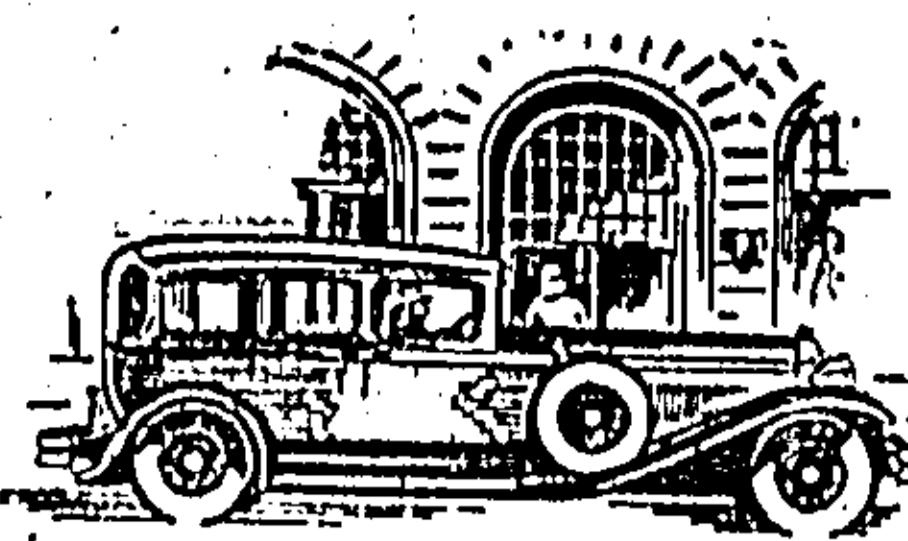

So popular is it, indeed, that there is talk of organising a petition asking the authorities to rescind their order.

Much careful practice was needed before the dance could be well done, and there are many "professors" of it in Istanbul who made good livings show off their skill. Now they are out of work.

Last year the dance was declared improper by an Egyptian court. A "can-can" dancer was fined and ordered not to perform the dance again.

TEA DANCE TO-DAY

A Tea Dance will be held at the Repulse Bay Hotel to-day at 4.30 p.m. The "Revellers" Band will be in attendance.

MOTURING NOTES

CATTLE ON THE ROAD

Strong Remarks By Coroner

Strong remarks concerning the negligence of those who drive cows along the road, without having anyone walking in front of the animals to warn motorists of the danger, were made by a coroner in Wiltshire during the course of an inquest on a woman passenger in a car which had overturned after violent braking when a herd was encountered on a bend.

The coroner, in his evidence, said that twice previously when he was driving cows there had been minor accidents. Most drivers have at one time or another had to brake hard to avoid cattle which have suddenly been driven from a field out on to the road without any sort of warning being given. "The Autocar."

RUNNING-BOARD MATS

Curing A Bulge

If the running-board mats on your car bulge, it is a good plan to remove the mats, clean the running board thoroughly, apply a heavy coat of roofing cement and then put on the mats. This cement is flexible and does not dry brittle.

ROAD-RAILER FOR RAILWAY CO.

A lorry which can be run with equal ease on either road or rail has been purchased by the L.N.E.R., says "Motor Transport."

This is known as the Ro-Railer, and was made by a commercial vehicle manufacturing firm. It will be used for conveying men and material employed on permanent way work.

WHEN INSTALLING NEW GASKETS

It is a good idea, before installing a new cylinder head gasket, to soak it in water for a few minutes. This softens it so that, when the head is pulled down tightly on the block, the gasket may be compressed.

AMERICA'S MARKET

WOMEN DRIVERS SAFER

What Pennsylvania Thinks

Women are better car drivers than men—at least in Pennsylvania. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles has issued figures to prove it.

They show that women form 18 per cent. of Pennsylvania's drivers, but in the first five months of this year they were involved in only 6 per cent. of the accidents and 4 per cent. of the fatalities.

"The average woman driver has developed certain qualities to a higher degree than has the average man," the Bureau says. "Among these are alertness, speed in acting, ready perception and intuition."

"The woman at the wheel is likely to be more cautious than the man. The male driver will often blame her for indecision, but as a matter of fact, there are a lot of men at the wheel who never themselves know what they are going to do."

CAR ON TWO WHEELS

Novel Motor Cycle With Enclosed Body

A motor cycle more unorthodox than anything which has appeared for many years is shortly to be placed on the market. The intention of the makers is to offer a "clean-to-ride" machine, which, while having an enclosed body—a veritable "car on two wheels"—shall be perfectly stable when at rest, so that there is no need for the rider to place his feet on the ground in order to keep the machine upright.

"The Motor Cycle" in describing this novel design, states that the body encloses two upholstered bucket seats, in tandem, and gives ample room for two adults. If desired, the passenger, in the rear seat may sit sideways, i.e., with both legs on one side. The body, which has two doors, is a metal one, and is quickly detachable.

GAS CONSUMPTION DECREASED

Gas consumption in an old car may be materially decreased by cleaning the inside of the carburetor with muriatic acid. After cleaning thoroughly, however, the parts should be dipped in ammonia and washed in water to prevent further action of the acid.

35 M.P.H. THE AVERAGE

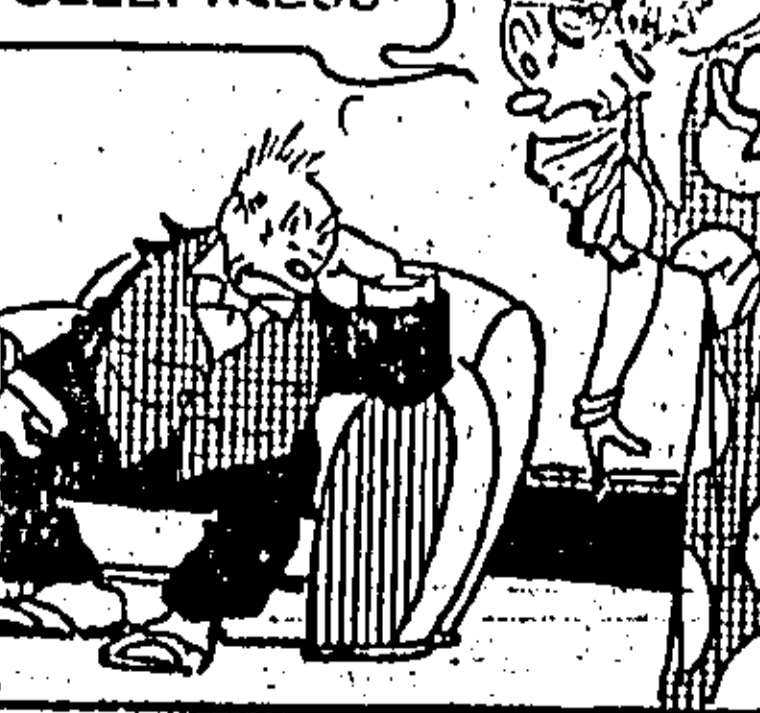

Tests have shown that the average motorist drives at a speed of 35 miles an hour.

DEFENCE HAND OF INTEREST

(By LADY RHODES)

Experienced contract players agree that good defence is the most difficult part of the game. Sometimes a contract can only be defeated by an unusual method of play combining with intelligent inference from the bidding.

Here is an example: North and South vulnerable, East and West not vulnerable. North opened with 1 spade, and East holding S—K 9 2 H—A K Q D—A 9 8 6 C—9 6 2 bid one no trump, preferring this bid to an informatory double, owing to the pattern of her hand.

South said 2 clubs, West passed, North bid 2 spades, South 3 spades, and North 4 spades East doubled and led the king of hearts. South then laid this hand down on the table:

S—A 6 4 H—J 10 D—J 10 3 C—K J 10 8 3

West dropped the 5 of hearts, and the declarer the 3. On the Ace of hearts West played the 6 and the declarer the 4.

Hard Thinking

East now thought to herself: where is the 2 of hearts? Unless my partner is false-carding, the declarer has it. Therefore, if I lead the queen of hearts, dummy will have to trump, or I shall get the trick. If she trumps, I can save the king of spades, and with my ace of diamonds we shall defeat the contract.

She therefore led her queen, and South put on the 4 of spades, both West and North following suit. Dummy then led the 3 of clubs, won by the declarer with the ace, who then led the queen of spades. East, of course, did not cover, and the next lead was a small spade, won with dummy's ace.

The king of clubs was then led from dummy, on which the declarer played the queen. The jack followed the declarer discarding the queen of diamonds followed by the king of diamonds on the ten. The fourth round of clubs was trumped by East's king of spades. East then led her ace of spades. East then led her ace of diamonds, unfortunately too late, as it was trumped by the declarer.

Good Idea—But?

East's idea of forcing dummy to trump the third heart was good; simple though it looks on paper, not all players would have thought of it, or, indeed, would have been so observant of the first two discards. But, had she thought a little harder about the bidding, she would have seen the importance of cashing-in the ace of diamonds first.

North had opened the bidding vulnerable. Having only half a trick in spades, and none in hearts, she must have held a least the king, queen of diamonds, and the ace of clubs, to justify her bid, even with a six card suit. She probably held the queen of clubs also. She cannot, therefore, have had chicane in diamonds, and, by first leading out the ace, East would have been certain of defeating the contract, provided always that her partner was discarding correctly on the hearts.

The Other Hands

Actually the other two hands were:

North—S—Q J 10 8 5 3 H—4 3 2 D—K Q C—A Q

West—S—7 H—9 8 7 6 5 D—7 5 4 2 C—7 5 4

Unlike the declarer, who sees her partner's hand at once, the defenders, unless they have exchanged bids start by knowing nothing of each other's hands. This is really what makes defence so difficult, and why it is so very necessary for them to draw every possible inference they can from the opponents' bids. Very often if it is possible to infer with accuracy that the declarer must hold a certain high card or cards. In other cases, it is equally apparent that she is unlikely to have them.

CORRESPONDENCE

DOUBTS REGARDING RELIGION

(To the Editor, the "Sunday Herald.")
Hong Kong, September 2.

Sir,—Reading to-day the article by the Rev. Bryan in answer to the challenge made by an individual that Christianity is dead, I could not help feeling that there is a good deal of doubt as to what people really mean about these matters. It is not a reason for a man to go and live either in Uganda or the depths of China because he does not believe in God. The reverend gentleman is being unfair to the Chinese at least; of Africa I know nothing. In the depths of China are to be seen remarkable instances of faith in the invisible, which if backed by such testimony as was produced by Christ, would make every one of those who saw such things become a believer in the True God.

The fullness or emptiness of churches is also outside of the question of "living Christianity." If churches are not so full as before, it may mean that there are less Christians than before, and it may also mean that there are less hypocrites or snobs about this matter. Surely God and Christ are above visible churches? In Ezekiel xxxvii, the man of God sees dead bones being turned into living beings, for never has God lacked the means of fulfilling his plan.

I should put the doubts that assail the average person as being of two kinds, leaving the church aside and approaching fundamentals.

1. A doubt as to the existence of God.

2. A doubt as to the historical truth of the Gospels.

I do not think that any person who knows the truth could possibly be "unreligious," because those who know God can but fear him. Where then does the fault lie for the existence of such doubts? Undoubtedly in the uncompleted system of instruction given in schools to the young, and also to the shirking of the issues in the pulpit.

By uncompleted instruction, I mean that instruction which teaches the young scripture without telling them how authoritative the sources of information are. They are expected to believe without questioning. By shirking of the issues, I mean the same state of affairs towards those who have grown up. This leads to an evasion of highly controversial matters.

Before Christ, men also knew about God, but never was there such a testimony as the witness of Christ. It would seem to me that Christ is a well attested story, which has withstood every attempt to break it down. Even before modern scientific research gave such an impulse to seekers after the truth, we have men like Paley, who over a century ago by using reason, summed up the evidences of Christianity in a manner which leaves the reader in no doubt as to the truth of the Gospel story. Any man who professes Christianity and yet does not take the trouble to find out the facts is surely a hypocrite? And he who throws doubt on the matter without devoting a lifetime to prove his doubts may be classed as rash. He is pitting his puny brain or intellect against the greatest and best brains of men who suffered and died for their belief. I cannot understand why the church should be worried by empty pews. It is better to have a congregation of a few believers than one of persons professing belief, but lacking conviction in their hearts. I have yet to learn that Christ compromised on the subject, or that he ever compelled anybody against their unbelief. He used force against one kind of abuse, that where the House of God was sold for money.

Regarding the first doubt, belief in God, I say that the pulpit has often shirked the issue. It is the major issue, which if a man disbelieves or is even not fully convinced of, then his religion must fall to the ground like a pack of cards. This issue concerns the Old Testament, which predicted the advent of Christ, and had that advent as its purpose. Christ came to fulfil, and he always quoted the prophets in support of himself, and so did his disciples. Why then are the prophets with their remarkable predictions so consistently neglected by the modern church? Fear of the truth? It looks very much like it. These books of the Old Testament are not child's play, and the story they tell is a very terrible one. Moses was a priest of Egypt, and out of Egypt came the Bereshit or Book of Genesis. A learned French scholar of a century ago (1825) says in "La Langue Hebraïque Restituée," "Many dreams have been recounted about this language (Hebrew), and the religious bias that has guided the pens of our historians has so obscured its origin, that I dare hardly state what it really is, so simple is that which I have to say. This simplicity may yet have a merit; for if I do not say with the Rabbis of the Synagogue or the Doctors of the Church that it presided at the birth of the world, that angels and men received it direct from the mouth of God, and that this celestial language, returning to its source will become that of the blessed in heaven, neither do I say that it is the miserable jargon of a horde of men, malicious, obstinate, defiant, turbulent and avaricious; I state simply, without any partiality whatsoever, that the Hebrew contained in the Sepher of Moses is the pure idiom of the ancient Egyptians." That is the secret hieroglyphic language of the temples.

In the sanctuaries of Egypt God was known, as was the coming of Christ. The ancient Sybilline books also spoke of a purification of the world to take place by fire. When we stand in the midst of great events why does not the church first teach a belief in God? How can men believe in God if they are not taught the wonders which have directed man through 2500 odd years?

The protestant reformers taught well and truly that the rock upon which Christ built his church was not Peter, but the exclamation of Peter, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God."

It is open to anyone to study these matters for himself, now more than in any previous age, since books and knowledge have never been so widely nor so cheaply diffused.

I have not written this lengthy letter with any idea of entering into argument upon the matter; but as one who having doubted, hence has stood on the threshold of learning and has had to find out for himself. I think it is right to point out to the unbeliever, that he has only himself to blame for his unbelief. As regards the church, if they stray from the essential, which were religious foundations to our fathers of old, then it is not surprising that modern man, better educated than formerly, and much more insistent as to facts in opposition to the superstition of his ancestors, should not flock to church.

Yours etc.

OPIUM DEN MURDER VICTIM KNOWN TO BE A NEWCOMER

Porcelain Pillow Weapon
And Blood-Stained Bed

HOLLYWOOD ROAD FRACAS

The body of the unknown
Chinese, aged about 25, who was found on Friday night by a police constable lying at the junction of Hollywood Road and Tung Street, apparently murdered, has now been identified as Chung Shop-ye, alias Shop Yee, a native of Kau
Kong Market, Nam Hoi District.

It was believed that he was a keeper of an opium den at No.
207 Hollywood Road.
From enquiries made by the police it is believed that he came to Hong Kong only recently and occupied a bed space on the cockloft above the kitchen at No. 207 Hollywood Road.
He had a wife and two brothers,
who are joint owners of the Wing
Fong shop at Kau Kong market.

The divan, which has its entrance in Sai Street, appeared as though it had been the scene of a fight, a porcelain pillow having been used as a weapon. There were blood-stains on the bed and floor.

It is believed that the deceased left the divan at about 9.20 p.m. after having been fatally stabbed, he is thought to have proceeded along Sai
Street and Hollywood Road to Tung Street, where he collapsed and died.

The only wound on his body was just over the heart, apparently caused by a dagger or scissors blade.

No clue as to the murderer has yet been found.

QUIET EXPECTED ON WALL STREET

Roosevelt Provides
A Setback

SPECIAL TO SUNDAY HERALD.
New York, Yesterday.
Wall Street expects further quiet weakness pending the Treasury's announcement on Monday of the re-financing programme.
Favourable factors were that the extra seasonal car-loadings increase was higher than expected and that a Curb Exchange seat sold for U.S.$20.00 against U.S.
$18.50 for the previous sale.

An unfavourable factor was that President Roosevelt insists on the retention of the N.R.A. collective bargaining provisions.—

Company.
